DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center, ("the director") denied the immigrant visa petition and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner seeks immigrant classification under section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii), as an alien battered or subjected to extreme cruelty by a United States citizen. The director denied the petition for failure to establish that: (1) the petitioner entered his marriage in good faith; (2) the petitioner resided with his wife; (3) the petitioner's wife subjected him to battery or extreme cruelty; and (4) the petitioner is a person of good moral character.

On the appeal notice, counsel briefly asserts that the director erred as a matter of fact and law. Counsel indicated that a brief and/or additional evidence would be submitted within 30 days of filing the appeal notice. The appeal notice was filed on October 29, 2013. As of the date of this decision, counsel has not submitted new evidence or a brief to specifically address the director's decision.

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal. 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v). As the petitioner has not identified any specific, erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact in the director's decision, the appeal must be summarily dismissed in accordance with 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v).

In visa petition proceedings, it is the petitioner's burden to establish eligibility for the immigration benefit sought. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361; Matter of Otiende, 26 I&N Dec. 127, 128 (BIA 2013). Here, that burden has not been met.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
