Any motion must be filed with the office which originally decided your case along with a fee of $110 as required under 8 C.F.R. 103.7.

FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

for
Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the District Director, Miami, Florida, who certified his decision to the Associate Commissioner, Examinations, for review. The district director's decision will be affirmed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Colombia who filed this application for adjustment of status to that of a lawful permanent resident under section 1 of the Cuban Adjustment Act of November 2, 1966. This Act provides, in pertinent part:

[T]he status of any alien who is a native or citizen of Cuba and who has been inspected and admitted or paroled into the United States subsequent to January 1, 1959 and has been physically present in the United States for at least one year, may be adjusted by the Attorney General, in his discretion and under such regulations as he may prescribe, to that of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence if the alien makes an application for such adjustment, and the alien is eligible to receive an immigrant visa and is admissible to the United States for permanent residence. The provisions of this Act shall be applicable to the spouse and child of any alien described in this subsection, regardless of their citizenship and place of birth, who are residing with such alien in the United States.

The district director determined that the applicant no longer resides with her Cuban stepfather because her stepfather and her mother divorced on May 31, 2000; therefore, she is not eligible for adjustment of status as the child of a native or citizen of Cuba pursuant to section 1 of the Act of November 2, 1966. The district director denied the application accordingly.

The applicant has provided no statement or additional evidence on notice of certification.

The record of proceeding does not contain the marriage certificate of the applicant's mother and [REDACTED]. The district director, however, noted in his decision that the applicant's mother married [REDACTED] on October 29, 1996. Based on that marriage, on March 7, 1997, the applicant filed for adjustment of status under section 1 of the Cuban Adjustment Act as the stepchild of a Cuban citizen. On May 31, 2000, the applicant's mother and [REDACTED] were divorced. The final judgment of dissolution of the marriage is contained in the record of proceeding.

Although the provisions of section 1 of the Act are applicable to the spouse or child of an alien described in the Act, it has been held in Matter of Bellido, 12 I&N Dec. 369 (Reg. Comm. 1967), that an applicant who is not a native or citizen of Cuba and is not residing with the Cuban citizen spouse (or parent) in the United States, is ineligible for adjustment of status pursuant to section 1 of the Act. The applicant's mother and Cuban stepfather divorced on May 31, 2000, and the applicant is no longer residing with her stepfather. She is, therefore, ineligible for adjustment of status pursuant to section 1 of the Act.

Pursuant to section 291 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361, the burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that she is eligible for adjustment of status. She has failed to meet that burden. The decision of the district director to deny the application will be affirmed.

ORDER: The district director's decision is affirmed.
