FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The employment-based immigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Nebraska Service Center, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be rejected.

The petitioner is an electrician which seeks to classify the beneficiary as an employment-based immigrant pursuant to section 203(b)(1)(A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1153(b)(1)(A), as an alien of extraordinary ability as an electrician, a field in which the beneficiary has no experience.<sup>1</sup> The director determined the petitioner had not established the sustained national or international acclaim necessary to qualify for classification as an alien of extraordinary ability.

On appeal, the beneficiary's sole argument is that he responded to the director's request for additional documentation, a fact which the director acknowledges in his decision.

On the Form I-140, Part One indicates that [REDACTED] of Richardson Electric is the petitioner. [REDACTED] signed the Form I-140 as the petitioner. The director sent the notice of decision to [REDACTED]. The appeal, however, is signed by the beneficiary.

8 C.F.R. 103.3(a)(1)(iii) states, in pertinent part:

(B) Meaning of affected party. For purposes of this section and sections 103.4 and 103.5 of this part, affected party (in addition to the Service) means the person or entity with legal standing in a proceeding. It does not include the beneficiary of a visa petition.

8 C.F.R. 103.3(a)(2)(v) states:

Improperly filed appeal -- (A) Appeal filed by person or entity not entitled to file it -- (1) Rejection without refund of filing fee. An appeal filed by a person or entity not entitled to file it must be rejected as improperly filed. In such a case, any filing fee the Service has accepted will not be refunded.

The appeal has not been filed by the petitioner, nor by any entity with legal standing in the proceeding. Rather, the beneficiary filed the instant appeal. Therefore, the appeal has not been properly filed, and must be rejected.

ORDER: The appeal is rejected.

<sup>1</sup> Under this classification, a petitioner must establish that the beneficiary is coming to the United States to continue in his area of expertise. On the Form I-140, the petitioner indicated that the beneficiary was seeking to work as an electrician. The accompanying documentation reveals that the petitioner is willing to train the beneficiary, whose previous experience is as a driver of trucks and coach buses.
