Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The preference visa petition was denied by the Director, California Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner is engaged in the business of trading textile products. It seeks to employ the beneficiary as its vice president. Accordingly, the petitioner endeavors to classify the beneficiary as an employment-based immigrant pursuant to section 203(b)(1)(C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(1)(C), as a multinational executive or manager. The director denied the petition because the petitioner failed to establish that it has a qualifying relationship with a foreign entity. The director also concluded that the beneficiary has not been employed in a managerial or executive capacity, either for the company abroad or for the U.S. entity. Finally, the director determined that the petitioner failed to establish that it has the ability to pay the beneficiary's proffered wage.

On appeal, counsel states that the director erred in denying the petition and further claims that the director abused her discretion and failed to consider relevant evidence. Although counsel did not expand on any of his arguments he indicated his intention to submit a written brief within 30 days of the director's denial, dated March 7, 2002. To date, however, nearly one year after the denial was issued, no brief has been received. Therefore, the record must be considered complete as presently constituted.

The regulations at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) state, in pertinent part:

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

Inasmuch as counsel has failed to identify specifically an erroneous conclusion of law or a statement of fact in this proceeding, the appeal will be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
