INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision in your case. All documents have been returned to the office which originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

If you believe the law was inappropriately applied or the analysis used in reaching the decision was inconsistent with the information provided or with precedent decisions, you may file a motion to reconsider. Such a motion must state the reasons for reconsideration and be supported by any pertinent precedent decisions. Any motion to reconsider must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reconsider, as required under 8 C.F.R. 103.5(a)(1)(i).

If you have new or additional information which you wish to have considered, you may file a motion to reopen. Such a motion must state the new facts to be proved at the reopened proceeding and be supported by affidavits or other documentary evidence. Any motion to reopen must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reopen, except that failure to file before this period expires may be excused in the discretion of the Service where it is demonstrated that the delay was reasonable and beyond the control of the applicant or petitioner. Id.

Any motion must be filed with the office which originally decided your case along with a fee of $110 as required under 8 C.F.R. 103.7.

FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiermann, Acting Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The employment-based immigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The Associate Commissioner, Examinations, dismissed a subsequent appeal. The matter is now before the Associate Commissioner on a motion to reopen. The motion will be granted, the previous decision of the Associate Commissioner will be affirmed and the petition will be denied.

The petitioner seeks classification pursuant to section 203(b)(2) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1153(b)(2), as a member of the professions holding an advanced degree. The petitioner seeks employment as an international trade advisor. The petitioner asserts that an exemption from the requirement of a job offer, and thus of a labor certification, is in the national interest of the United States. The director found that the petitioner qualifies for classification as a member of the professions holding an advanced degree, but that the petitioner had not established that an exemption from the requirement of a job offer would be in the national interest of the United States.

On motion, counsel states: "The petitioner has additional evidence which will address the denial of January 24, 2000." However, no additional evidence was submitted. Further, counsel failed to state the new facts to be provided as grounds for the motion to reopen pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 103.3(a)(2).

Counsel indicated that a brief and/or evidence would be submitted to the Administrative Appeals Unit ("AAU") within 30 days. Counsel dated the motion to reopen February 22, 2000. As of this date, more than twenty months later, the AAU has received nothing further.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. 103.3(a)(2)(vii) allows for limited circumstances in which a petitioner can supplement an already-submitted appeal. This regulation, however, applies only to appeals, and not to motions to reopen or reconsider. There is no analogous regulation which allows a petitioner to submit evidence in furtherance of an already-filed motion. By filing a motion, the petitioner does not guarantee herself an open-ended period in which to supplement the record. The regulations grant the petitioner thirty days to contest the dismissal of the appeal via motion to reconsider, with no provision for extension or later submission of supplementary documentation. Furthermore, even if the regulations did allow for the submission of supplementary evidence on motion, to date, twenty months after the filing of the motion, the record contains no such additional evidence.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden.

ORDER: The Associate Commissioner's decision of is affirmed. The petition is denied.
