FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER, EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The employment-based immigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner (the successor in interest of the original petitioner) designs, develops and distributes computer systems. It seeks to employ the beneficiary permanently in the United States as a software designer pursuant to section 203(b)(2) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1153(b)(2). As required by statute, the petition was accompanied by certification from the Department of Labor. The director determined that the job offered did not require a member of the professions holding an advanced degree.

Review of Service records indicates that, subsequent to filing the instant petition, the beneficiary obtained an immigrant visa in a separate proceeding and has since been admitted into the United States as a lawful permanent resident. Because the alien has obtained lawful permanent resident status, further pursuit of the matter at hand is moot. This office is not in a position to grant any benefit that the alien has not already obtained.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed, based on the alien's lawful permanent resident status.
