FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiemann
Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The preference visa petition was denied by the Director, Nebraska Service Center, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a restaurant. It seeks to employ the beneficiary permanently in the United States as a specialty cook. As required by statute, the petition is accompanied by an individual labor certification approved by the Department of Labor. The director determined that the petitioner had not established that it had the financial ability to pay the beneficiary the proffered wage as of the filing date of the visa petition.

On appeal, counsel submits a brief and additional evidence.

Section 203(b)(3)(A)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1153(b)(3)(A)(i), provides for the granting of preference classification to qualified immigrants who are capable, at the time of petitioning for classification under this paragraph, of performing skilled labor (requiring at least two years training or experience), not of a temporary or seasonal nature, for which qualified workers are not available in the United States.

8 C.F.R. 204.5(g)(2) states in pertinent part:

Ability of prospective employer to pay wage. Any petition filed by or for an employment-based immigrant which requires an offer of employment must be accompanied by evidence that the prospective United States employer has the ability to pay the proffered wage. The petitioner must demonstrate this ability at the time the priority date is established and continuing until the beneficiary obtains lawful permanent residence. Evidence of this ability shall be either in the form of copies of annual reports, federal tax returns, or audited financial statements.

Eligibility in this matter hinges on the petitioner's ability to pay the wage offered as of the petition's filing date, which is the date the request for labor certification was accepted for processing by any office within the employment system of the Department of Labor. Matter of Wing's Tea House, 16 I&N Dec. 158 (Act. Reg. Comm. 1977). Here, the petition's filing date is January 12, 1998. The beneficiary's salary as stated on the labor certification is $12.00 per hour or $24,960.00 annually.

Counsel submitted copies of the petitioner's Form 1120 U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return. The federal tax return for fiscal year November 1, 1996 through October 31, 1997 reflected gross receipts of $669,339; gross profit of $393,938; compensation of officers of $52,000; salaries and wages paid of $21,127; depreciation of $48,612 and a taxable income before net operating loss deduction and special deductions of $3,872. Schedule L reflected total current assets of -$15,841 with -$17,858 in cash and total current liabilities of $0. The federal tax return for fiscal year November 1, 1997 through October 31, 1998 reflected gross receipts of $619,841; gross profit of $352,313; compensation of officers of $60,500; salaries and wages paid of $11,902; depreciation of $33,367 and a taxable income before net operating loss deduction and special deductions of -$36,428. Schedule L reflected total current assets of -$44,088 with -$46,224 in cash and total current liabilities of $0.

The federal tax return for fiscal year November 1, 1998 through October 31, 1999 reflected gross receipts of $650,441; gross profit of $338,689; compensation of officers of $0; salaries and wages paid of $43,966; depreciation of $32,698 and a taxable income before net operating loss deduction and special deductions of $26,826. Schedule L reflected total current assets of $10,328 with $7,881 in cash and total current liabilities of $0.

The director determined that the evidence did not establish that the petitioner had the ability to pay the proffered wage and denied the petition accordingly.

On appeal, counsel submits a copy of the petitioner's Form 1120 U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return for fiscal year November 1, 1999 through October 31, 2000 which reflects gross receipts of $690,545; gross profit of $384,605; compensation of officers of $0; salaries and wages paid of $79,077; depreciation of $32,500 and a taxable income before net operating loss deduction and special deductions of $26,590. Schedule L reflected total current assets of $5,167 with -$1,259 in cash and total current liabilities of $0.

Counsel argues that the director "failed to consider the total figures paid as wages and salaries including compensation of officers." Counsel further argues that "Garden Buffet has track records of successful operation, emphasizing the prior years of successful operation and any short-term circumstances that have led to the petitioner's financial difficulties and facts that will improve the petitioner's position in the future."

Matter of Sonegawa, 12 I&N Dec. 612 (Reg. Comm. 1967) relates to petitions filed during uncharacteristically unprofitable or difficult years but only within a framework of profitable or successful years. The petitioning entity in Sonegawa had been in business for over 11 years and routinely earned a gross annual income of about $100,000.00. During the year in which the petition was filed in that case, the petitioner changed business locations, and paid rent on both the old and new locations for five months. There were large moving costs and also a period of time when the petitioner was unable to do regular business. The Regional Commissioner determined that the petitioner's prospects for a resumption of successful business operations were well established. The petitioner was a fashion designer whose work had been featured in Time and Look magazines. Her clients included Miss Universe, movie actresses, and society matrons. The petitioner's clients had been included in the lists of the best dressed California women. The petitioner lectured on fashion design at design and fashion shows throughout the United States and at colleges and universities in California. The Regional Commissioner's determination in Sonegawa was based in part on the petitioner's sound business reputation and outstanding reputation as a couturiere.

No unusual circumstances have been shown to exist in this case which parallel those in Sonegawa, nor has it been established that 1998 was an uncharacteristically unprofitable year for the petitioner.

A review of the federal tax return for fiscal year November 1, 1997 through October 31, 1998, shows that when one adds the taxable income and the depreciation, the total equals -$3,061, an amount less than the proffered wage.

Accordingly, after a review of the federal tax returns, it is concluded that the petitioner has not established that it had sufficient available funds to pay the salary offered at the time of filing of the petition.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
