FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiemann
Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The preference visa petition was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a hotel. It seeks to employ the beneficiary permanently in the United States as a night auditor/front desk manager. As required by statute, the petition is accompanied by an individual labor certification approved by the Department of Labor. The director determined that the petitioner had not established that it had the financial ability to pay the beneficiary the proffered wage as of the priority date of the visa petition.

On appeal, counsel submits a brief.

Section 203(b)(3)(A)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1153(b)(3)(A)(i), provides for the granting of preference classification to qualified immigrants who are capable, at the time of petitioning for classification under this paragraph, of performing skilled labor (requiring at least two years training or experience), not of a temporary or seasonal nature, for which qualified workers are not available in the United States.

8 C.F.R. 204.5(g)(2) states in pertinent part:

Ability of prospective employer to pay wage. Any petition filed by or for an employment-based immigrant which requires an offer of employment must be accompanied by evidence that the prospective United States employer has the ability to pay the proffered wage. The petitioner must demonstrate this ability at the time the priority date is established and continuing until the beneficiary obtains lawful permanent residence. Evidence of this ability shall be either in the form of copies of annual reports, federal tax returns, or audited financial statements.

Eligibility in this matter hinges on the petitioner's ability to pay the wage offered as of the petition's priority date, which is the date the request for labor certification was accepted for processing by any office within the employment system of the Department of Labor. Matter of Wing's Tea House, 16 I&N Dec. 158 (Act. Reg. Comm. 1977). Here, the petition's priority date is November 17, 1997. The beneficiary's salary as stated on the labor certification is $15.19 per hour or $31,595.20 per annum.

Counsel initially submitted insufficient evidence of the petitioner's ability to pay the proffered wage. On November 2, 2001, the director requested additional evidence to establish that the petitioner had the ability to pay the proffered wage.

In response, counsel submitted copies of the petitioner's Schedule C of Form 1040 Profit or Loss From Business for the years 1997, 1998, and 2000. Schedule C of Form 1040 for 1997 reflected gross receipts of [REDACTED] gross profit of [REDACTED] wages of [REDACTED] and net profit of [REDACTED]. Schedule C of Form 1040 for 1998 reflected gross receipts of [REDACTED] gross profit of [REDACTED] wages of [REDACTED] and net profit of [REDACTED]. Schedule C of Form 1040 for 2000 reflected gross receipts of [REDACTED] gross profit of [REDACTED] wages of [REDACTED] and net profit of [REDACTED].

The director determined that the evidence did not establish that the petitioner had the ability to pay the proffered wage and denied the petition accordingly.

On appeal, counsel argues that:

The decision cites operating losses which the hotel had for three years, but fails to note that in each of those three years not only did Le Reve Hotel have the ability to pay the wages but in fact did in each of those three years in the amounts of [REDACTED] in 1997, [REDACTED] in 1998 and [REDACTED] in the year 2000. The payment of increasing amounts of salary in each of those successive years clearly demonstrates the ability of Le Reve Hotel to pay $15.19 per hour to the beneficiary.

The petitioner's Schedule C of Form 1040 for the calendar year 1997 shows a net profit of [REDACTED]. The petitioner could not pay a proffered wage of [REDACTED] per year out of this income.

In addition, the 1998 and 2000 federal tax returns continue to show an inability to pay the proffered wage.

Accordingly, after a review of the federal tax returns furnished, it is concluded that the petitioner has not established that it had sufficient available funds to pay the salary offered as of the priority date of the petition and continuing to present.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
