ON BEHALF OF PETITIONER:

This is the decision in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

If you believe the law was inappropriately applied or the analysis used in reaching the decision was inconsistent with the information provided or with precedent decisions, you may file a motion to reconsider. Such a motion must state the reasons for reconsideration and be supported by any pertinent precedent decisions. Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The employment-based immigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Nebraska Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The case will be remanded for further consideration and action.

The petitioner is an import/export company. It seeks to employ the beneficiary permanently in the United States as an export manager. The director denied the petition on February 4, 2003, stating that the petitioner had abandoned the petition by failing to respond to a request for further evidence.

8 C.F.R. § 103.2(15), however, provides that a denial due to abandonment may not be appealed, but a petitioner may file a motion to reopen (as the director advised the petitioner in the denial notice). Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.5(a)(1)(ii), jurisdiction over a motion resides in the official who made the latest decision in the proceeding. Therefore, given the grounds for denial, the petitioner has no right of appeal in this matter, and the Administrative Appeals Office has no jurisdiction in this proceeding. We remand this matter to the director for a decision pursuant to the regulations governing motions to reopen.

ORDER: The case is remanded to the director for further action in accordance with the foregoing.
