Σ Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Acting Director, Vermont Service Center, denied the preference visa petition in a decision dated September 24, 2004. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a native and citizen of Mexico who is seeking classification as a special immigrant pursuant to section 204(a)(1)(B)(ii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(B)(ii), as the battered spouse of a lawful permanent resident of the United States.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.2(c)(1)(i) states, in pertinent part, that:

A spouse may file a self-petition under section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) or 204(a)(1)(B)(ii) of the Act for his or her classification as an immigrant relative or as a preference immigrant if he or she:

- (A) Is the spouse of a citizen or lawful permanent resident of the United States;
- (B) Is eligible for immigrant classification under section 201(b)(2)(A)(i) or 203(a)(2)(A) of the Act based on that relationship;
- (C) Is residing in the United States;
- (D) Has resided . . . with the citizen or lawful permanent resident spouse;
- (E) Has been battered by, or has been the subject of extreme cruelty perpetrated by, the citizen or lawful permanent resident during the marriage; or is the parent of a child who has been battered by, or has been the subject of extreme cruelty perpetrated by, the citizen or lawful permanent resident during the marriage;
- (F) Is a person of good moral character; [and]

- (H) Entered into the marriage to the citizen or lawful permanent resident in good faith.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.2(c)(1)(i)(E) requires the petitioner to establish that she has been battered by, or has been the subject of extreme cruelty perpetrated by, the citizen or lawful permanent resident during the marriage; or is the parent of a child who has been battered by, or has been the subject of extreme cruelty perpetrated by, the citizen or lawful permanent resident during the marriage.

The director determined that the petitioner failed to establish that she is eligible for immigrant classification under section 204(a)(1)(B)(ii) of the Act, because according to the evidence on the record, the petitioner had divorced her permanent resident spouse more than two years prior to the filing of the petition. The director determined and the AAO concurs that there is no provision of law whereby an alien may self-petition based on a former spousal relationship when more than two years have passed between the date of the legal termination of the marriage and the date of filing a Form I-360 petition.

According to the evidence on the record, the petitioner married her United States resident spouse on September 30, 1990 and divorced on September 25, 1995. The petitioner was placed in removal proceedings on May 30, 2002. The petitioner filed the Form I-360 self-petition on November 29, 2004, more than 9 years after the marriage was terminated. The petitioner is scheduled for a hearing before an immigration judge on August 31, 2005.

On appeal, the petitioner asserts that she established her eligibility for classification as a battered spouse of a lawful permanent resident.

The petitioner failed to establish that she was the spouse of a citizen either at the time of or within two years prior to the filing of the petition.

Section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii)(II) of the Act requires that the self-petitioner establish that she is married to a United States citizen or permanent resident at the time of the filing of the Form I-360 petition with certain exceptions. The petitioner does not fall within one of the statutory exceptions to this requirement. She divorced her permanent resident spouse more than two years prior to the filing of the instant petition.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not met that burden. Accordingly, the appeal will be dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
