IN RE: Petitioner: [REDACTED]

PETITION: Petition for Immigrant Abused Spouse Pursuant to Section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii)

ON BEHALF OF PETITIONER:

SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Maura Deardark
for Robert P. Wiemann, Chief Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center, denied the immigrant visa petition. On appeal, the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) remanded the matter for further action. The matter is now before the AAO upon certification of the director's subsequent, adverse decision. The decision of the director will be affirmed and the petition will be denied.

The petitioner seeks immigrant classification pursuant to section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act ("the Act"), 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii), as an alien battered or subjected to extreme cruelty by a United States citizen.

Section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Act provides that an alien who is the spouse of a United States citizen may self-petition for immigrant classification if the alien demonstrates that he or she entered into the marriage with the United States citizen spouse in good faith and that during the marriage, the alien was battered or subjected to extreme cruelty perpetrated by the alien's spouse. In addition, the alien must show that he or she is eligible to be classified as an immediate relative under section 201(b)(2)(A)(i) of the Act, resided with the abusive spouse, and is a person of good moral character. Section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii)(II) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1154(a)(1)(A)(iii)(II).

Section 204(a)(1)(J) of the Act states, in pertinent part:

In acting on petitions filed under clause (iii) or (iv) of subparagraph (A) or clause (ii) or (iii) of subparagraph (B), or in making determinations under subparagraphs (C) and (D), the [Secretary of Homeland Security] shall consider any credible evidence relevant to the petition. The determination of what evidence is credible and the weight to be given that evidence shall be within the sole discretion of the [Secretary of Homeland Security].

In this case, the director initially denied the petition on January 11, 2006 for failure to establish the requisite battery or extreme cruelty. In its August 21, 2006 decision on appeal, the AAO concurred with the director's determinations but remanded the petition for issuance of a Notice of Intent to Deny (NOID) in compliance with the regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.2(c)(3)(ii). Upon remand, the director issued a NOID on October 6, 2006, which informed the petitioner that she had failed to establish the requisite battery or extreme cruelty. The director denied the petition on February 16, 2007 on the ground cited in the NOID and stated that the record contained no response to the NOID. In his Notice of Certification, the director informed the petitioner, through counsel, that she could submit a brief to the AAO within 30 days after service of the certified decision. To date, the AAO has received nothing further from the petitioner.

The relevant evidence submitted below was discussed in our prior decision, incorporated here by reference. The record contains a letter from the petitioner that was received by the Vermont Service Center on December 6, 2006 and appears to have been submitted in response to the NOID. The petitioner has not been harmed by the director's failure to address this letter, however, because the petitioner merely reiterates her claims made below regarding her husband's alleged abuse. The petitioner's December 6, 2006 letter provides no further, probative information sufficient to overcome the ground for denial. Accordingly, the February 16, 2007 decision of the director denying the petition is affirmed. The petitioner has not demonstrated that her husband subjected her to battery or extreme cruelty during their marriage. She is consequently ineligible for immigrant classification under section 204(a)(1)(A)(iii) of the Act.

In visa petition proceedings, the burden of proving eligibility for the benefit sought remains entirely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden.

ORDER: The director's decision of February 16, 2007 is affirmed. The petition is denied.
