Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The immigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner is a religious organization that seeks classification of the beneficiary as a special immigrant religious worker pursuant to section 203(b)(4) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the "Act"), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(4).

The center director denied the petition in a decision dated April 19, 2002, finding that the petitioner had not established that the beneficiary had been performing as a Religious Worker for the two-year period immediately preceding the filing of the petition.

The petitioner timely filed a Form I-290B Notice of Appeal on May 22, 2002. The appeal merely states that the beneficiary is needed at the church and "in the past she has proven to be a diligent, hard working, dedicated, well versed minister."

Regulations at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) state, in pertinent part:

An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

Inasmuch as the petitioner has failed to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or a statement of fact in this proceeding, the appeal must be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
