Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The immigrant visa petition was initially approved by the Director, California Service Center. On motion, the director reopened the case, and denied the petition. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The director's decision dated September 3, 2002, will be withdrawn, and the case remanded.

The petitioner is a church. It seeks classification of the beneficiary as a special immigrant minister pursuant to section 203(b)(4) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(4), in order to employ him as a minister.

The director denied the petition, finding that the petitioner failed to establish that the beneficiary had been continuously carrying on the vocation of an ordained minister for at least the two years preceding the filing of the petition.

On appeal, counsel for the petitioner submits a brief.

Section 203(b)(4) of the Act provides classification to qualified special immigrant religious workers as described in section 101(a)(27)(C) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(27)(C), which pertains to an immigrant who:

(i) for at least 2 years immediately preceding the time of application for admission, has been a member of a religious denomination having a bona fide nonprofit, religious organization in the United States;

(ii) seeks to enter the United States--

(I) solely for the purpose of carrying on the vocation of a minister of that religious denomination,

(II) before October 1, 2003, in order to work for the organization at the request of the organization in a professional capacity in a religious vocation or occupation, or

(III) before October 1, 2003, in order to work for the organization (or for a bona fide organization which is affiliated with the religious denomination and is exempt from taxation as an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Code of 1986) at the request of the organization in a religious vocation or occupation; and

(iii) has been carrying on such vocation, professional work, or other work continuously for at least the 2-year period described in clause (i).

The director approved the petition on July 11, 2002. On September 3, 2002, the director moved to reopen the case and issued a denial.

The director's decision dated September 3, 2002, denying the petition will be withdrawn. The director will follow the procedures set forth at 8 C.F.R. § 205.2 for revocation.

The director's decision was deficient in that it failed to adhere to the regulations regarding revocation. Accordingly, this matter will be remanded to allow the director to give the petitioner notice of revocation and an opportunity to rebut the notice. The director shall then render a new decision based on the evidence of record as it relates to the regulatory requirements for eligibility.

ORDER: The director's decision of September 3, 2002 is withdrawn. The matter is remanded for further action and consideration consistent with the above discussion and entry of a new decision.
