DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, California Service Center. A subsequent motion to reopen was dismissed by the director. The matter is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a medical practice employing three persons. It seeks to employ the beneficiary as a medical clinic manager for a period of three years. The director determined the petitioner had not established that the offered position is a specialty occupation.

On appeal, counsel states that the duties of the offered position can be classified into two categories. Counsel further states the first deals with the management and operation of the clinic and the second deals with the functions generally akin to a medical records administrator. Counsel indicates that the position requires that the beneficiary be able to speak three languages, English, Spanish and Filipino. Counsel argues that the offered position is a specialty occupation and the beneficiary is qualified to perform the duties of a specialty occupation.

Section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b), provides in part for nonimmigrant classification to qualified aliens who are coming temporarily to the United States to perform services in a specialty occupation. Section 214(i)(1) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1184(i)(1), defines a "specialty occupation" as an occupation that requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge, and attainment of a bachelor's or higher degree in the specific specialty (or its equivalent) as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States.

Pursuant to section 214(i)(2) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1184(i)(2), to qualify as an alien coming to perform services in a specialty occupation the beneficiary must hold full state licensure to practice in the occupation, if such licensure is required to practice in the occupation. In addition, the beneficiary must have completed the degree required for the occupation, or have experience in the specialty equivalent to the completion of such degree and recognition of expertise in the specialty through progressively responsible positions relating to the specialty.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(iii)(B), the petitioner shall submit the following with an H-1B petition involving a specialty occupation:

1. A certification from the Secretary of Labor that the petitioner has filed a labor condition application with the Secretary,

2. A statement that it will comply with the terms of the labor condition application for the duration of the alien's authorized period of stay, and

3. Evidence that the alien qualifies to perform services in the specialty occupation.

The petitioner has provided a certified labor condition application and a statement that it will comply with the terms of the labor condition application.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(iii)(C), to qualify to perform services in a specialty occupation, the alien must meet one of the following criteria:

1. Hold a United States baccalaureate or higher degree required by the specialty occupation from an accredited college or university;

2. Hold a foreign degree determined to be equivalent to a United States baccalaureate or higher degree required by the specialty occupation from an accredited college or university;

3. Hold an unrestricted State license, registration, or certification which authorizes him or her to fully practice the specialty occupation and be immediately engaged in that specialty in the state of intended employment; or

4. Have education, specialized training, and/or progressively responsible experience that is equivalent to completion of a United States baccalaureate or higher degree in the specialty occupation and have recognition of expertise in the specialty through progressively responsible positions directly related to the specialty.

The beneficiary holds a Master of Arts in Education degree conferred by a Philippine institution. The beneficiary had ten years' experience as school principal and had two years of experience as a medical clinic manager in the Philippines. It is concluded that the beneficiary qualifies to perform the duties of the offered position.

The term "specialty occupation" is defined at 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(ii) as:

an occupation which requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge in fields of human endeavor including, but not limited to, architecture, engineering, mathematics, physical sciences, social sciences, medicine and health, education, business specialties, accounting, law, theology, and the arts, and which requires the attainment of a bachelor's degree or higher in a specific specialty, or its equivalent, as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h) (4) (iii) (A), to qualify as a specialty occupation, the position must meet one of the following criteria:

1. A baccalaureate or higher degree or its equivalent is normally the minimum requirement for entry into the particular position;
2. The degree requirement is common to the industry in parallel positions among similar organizations or, in the alternative, an employer may show that its particular position is so complex or unique that it can be performed only by an individual with a degree;
3. The employer normally requires a degree or its equivalent for the position; or
4. The nature of the specific duties is so specialized and complex that knowledge required to perform the duties is usually associated with the attainment of a baccalaureate or higher degree.

The duties of the offered position are described as follows:

- (1) Manages the Administrative Operations of the Medical Clinic;
- (2) Plans, develops and administers Medical record systems for the clinic; collects and analyzes patient and institutional data;
- (3) Develops and implements policies and procedures for documenting, storing and retrieving information and for processing medical - legal documents, issuance and correspondents requests in conformity with Federal, State and local statutes;
- (4) Engages in basic and applied research in health care field;
- (5) Compiles and maintains medical records of clinic patients; reviews medical records for completeness and accuracy;
- (6) Codes diseases, operations, diagnosis and treatments;

- (7) Compiles medical care and census data for statistical reports;
- (8) Transcribes medical reports;
- (9) Maintains indexes on patient, disease, operation;
- (10) Directs routine operation of medical record department.

The petitioner has failed to establish that any of the four factors enumerated above are present in this proceeding. The petitioner has not shown that it has, in the past, required the services of individuals with baccalaureate or higher degrees in a specialized area for the offered position. In addition, the petitioner has not shown that similar firms require the services of such individuals in parallel positions.

Counsel asserts that the Department of Labor (DOL) has determined that the offered position is a specialty occupation. However, a reference in DOL's Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT), Fourth Edition, 1977, standing alone, is not enough to establish an occupation is a specialty occupation. The DOT classification system and its categorization of an occupation as "professional and kindred" are not directly related to membership in a profession or specialty occupation as defined in immigration law. In the DOT listing of occupations, any given subject area within the professions contains nonprofessional work, as well as work within the professions.

The latest edition of the DOT does not give information about the educational and other requirements for the different occupations. This type of information is currently furnished by the Department of Labor in the various editions of the Occupational Outlook Handbook (Handbook). The latter publication is given considerable weight (certainly much more than the DOT) in determining whether an occupation is within the professions. This is because it provides specific and detailed information regarding the educational and other requirements for occupations.

In these proceedings, the duties of the position are dispositive and not the job title. The offered position appears to combine the duties of an administrative services manager and a registered nurse. The Handbook, 2000-2001 edition, at page 24 finds no requirement of a baccalaureate degree in a specialized area for employment as an administrative services manager. Some administrative services managers hold baccalaureate or higher degrees while others hold associate (two-year) degrees or high school diplomas. The Handbook indicates that the educational requirements for administrative service management positions often depend on the size and complexity of the organization.

The Handbook at pages 211-212 finds no requirement of a baccalaureate or higher degree in a specialized area for employment as a registered nurse. Some registered nurses hold baccalaureate degrees while others hold diplomas or associate (two-year) degrees. Additionally, the Handbook indicates that attempts to raise the educational requirements for a registered nursing license to a baccalaureate degree in nursing have not been successful. It is concluded that the petitioner has not demonstrated that the offered position is a specialty occupation within the meaning of regulations.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
