Any motion must be filed with the office which originally decided your case along with a fee of $110 as required under 8 C.F.R. 103.7.

FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a health care center with five employees and a gross annual income of $400,000. It seeks to employ the beneficiary as a registered nurse for a period of three years. The director determined the petitioner had not established that the offered position is a specialty occupation.

On appeal, the petitioner's representative submits a letter.

8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(ii) defines the term "specialty occupation" as:

an occupation which requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge in fields of human endeavor including, but not limited to, architecture, engineering, mathematics, physical sciences, social sciences, medicine and health, education, business specialties, accounting, law, theology, and the arts, and which requires the attainment of a bachelor's degree or higher in a specific specialty, or its equivalent, as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States.

The director denied the petition because most nursing positions do not require a baccalaureate degree. On appeal, the petitioner's representative states in part that the offered position is so complex and unique that it can be performed only by an individual with a degree.

The representative's statement on appeal is not persuasive. The Service does not use a title, by itself, when determining whether a particular job qualifies as a specialty occupation. The specific duties of the offered position combined with the nature of the petitioning entity's business operations are factors that the Service considers. The petitioner described the duties of the offered position as follows:

Staff Nurse - Intensive Care Unit

- 1) As a Staff Nurse in kidney dialysis unit.
- 2) Assist Anesthesiologist in performing invasive procedures such as intubation, central line insertion, arterial cannulation, Swan-Ganz Catheterization, Intra-aortic balloon Catheterization, Arterial Blood Gas Extraction and non-invasive procedures such as CPR, Defibrillation, external Pacemaker's, Peritoneal dialysis, continuous Arterio Venous Haemo filtration and Plasmapheresis.

3) Maintain and regulates intravenous fluid therapy including transfusion of blood and blood-products, Total Parantral Nutrition as well as notes reaction.

4) Assist in operating mechanical ventilators, syringe pumps, IVAC Machines, CO2 Normocap machines, Feeding Pumps, EGG Machines, Intra-aortic balloon Pump and ABG Machines.

5) Assemble and disassemble mechanical ventilator parts and send for sterilization.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(iii)(A), to qualify as a specialty occupation, the position must meet one of the following criteria:

1. A baccalaureate or higher degree or its equivalent is normally the minimum requirement for entry into the particular position;

2. The degree requirement is common to the industry in parallel positions among similar organizations or, in the alternative, an employer may show that its particular position is so complex or unique that it can be performed only by an individual with a degree;

3. The employer normally requires a degree or its equivalent for the position; or

4. The nature of the specific duties is so specialized and complex that knowledge required to perform the duties is usually associated with the attainment of a baccalaureate or higher degree.

The petitioner has not met any of the above requirements to classify the offered position as a specialty occupation.

First, the Service does not agree with the representative's argument that the offered nursing position is an occupation that would normally require a bachelor's degree in nursing or a related field. A review of the Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook (Handbook), 2000-2001 edition at pages 210-212 lists no requirement of a baccalaureate or higher degree in a specialized area for employment as a registered nurse. Some registered nurses hold baccalaureate degrees while others hold diplomas or associate (two-year) degrees. Additionally, the Handbook indicates that attempts to raise the educational requirements for a registered nursing license to a baccalaureate degree in nursing have not been successful. Thus, the petitioner has not shown that a bachelor's degree or its equivalent is required for the position being offered to the beneficiary.

Second, the petitioner has not shown that it has, in the past, required the services of individuals with baccalaureate or higher degrees in a specialized area such as nursing, for the offered position. Third, the petitioner did not present any documentary evidence that businesses similar to the petitioner in their type of operations, number of employees, and amount of gross annual income, require the services of individuals in parallel positions. Finally, the petitioner did not demonstrate that the nature of the beneficiary's proposed duties is so specialized and complex that the knowledge required to perform the duties is usually associated with the attainment of a baccalaureate or higher degree.

The petitioner has failed to establish that any of the four factors enumerated above are present in this proceeding. Accordingly, it is concluded that the petitioner has not demonstrated that the offered position is a specialty occupation within the meaning of the regulations.

Beyond the decision of the director, the record contains no evaluation of the beneficiary's credentials from a service which specializes in evaluating foreign educational credentials as required by 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(2)(iii)(D)(3).

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
