FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER, EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be sustained.

The petitioner is an internet multimedia firm with three employees and a gross annual income of $250,000. It seeks to employ the beneficiary as a "webographer" for a period of three years. The director determined the petitioner had not established that the offered position is a specialty occupation.

On appeal, counsel submits a brief.

Section 101(a) (15) (H) (i) (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1101(a) (15) (H) (i) (b), provides in part for nonimmigrant classification to qualified aliens who are coming temporarily to the United States to perform services in a specialty occupation. Section 214(i) (1) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1184(i) (1), defines a "specialty occupation" as an occupation that requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge, and attainment of a bachelor's or higher degree in the specific specialty (or its equivalent) as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States.

Pursuant to section 214(i) (2) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1184(i) (2), to qualify as an alien coming to perform services in a specialty occupation the beneficiary must hold full state licensure to practice in the occupation, if such licensure is required to practice in the occupation. In addition, the beneficiary must have completed the degree required for the occupation, or have experience in the specialty equivalent to the completion of such degree and recognition of expertise in the specialty through progressively responsible positions relating to the specialty.

The director denied the petition because the petitioner had not established that a webographer is a specialty occupation. On appeal, counsel states, in part, that a baccalaureate or higher degree is normally the minimum requirement for the position of webographer.

The term "specialty occupation" is defined at 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h) (4) (ii) as:

an occupation which requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge in fields of human endeavor including, but not limited to, architecture, engineering, mathematics, physical sciences, social sciences, medicine and health, education, business specialties, accounting, law, theology, and the arts, and which requires the attainment of a bachelor's degree or higher in a specific specialty, or its equivalent, as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(iii)(A), to qualify as a specialty occupation, the position must meet one of the following criteria:

1. A baccalaureate or higher degree or its equivalent is normally the minimum requirement for entry into the particular position;
2. The degree requirement is common to the industry in parallel positions among similar organizations or, in the alternative, an employer may show that its particular position is so complex or unique that it can be performed only by an individual with a degree;
3. The employer normally requires a degree or its equivalent for the position; or
4. The nature of the specific duties is so specialized and complex that knowledge required to perform the duties is usually associated with the attainment of a baccalaureate or higher degree.

In the initial I-129 petition, the petitioner described the duties of the offered position as follows:

Image Plant requests permission to employ William Archer, in the position of Webographer, a pioneer position in the emerging art of shooting, editing, and compressing video for playback over the Internet. Duties of the position include use of new technology to produce video clips for delivery over the Internet and to computers, and by doing so to promote business for Image Plant. Mr. Archer will handle all aspects of producing, shooting, and editing the video clips. We have a number of projects in-house that are depending on his unique skills; for that reason it is extremely important that we employ Mr. Archer.

In these proceedings, the duties of the position are dispositive and not the job title. The offered position appears to be that of a graphic designer. A review of the Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook, 2000-2001 edition, at page 253 finds that:

Graphic designers must demonstrate artistic ability and creative thinking. Academic training leading to a bachelor's degree in art or design has almost become a necessity...

Graphic designers may advance to assistant art director, art director, design director, and in some companies, creative director of an art or design department.

The above description indicates that the minimum requirement for an graphic designer is a bachelor's degree in art or design. It is concluded that the petitioner has demonstrated that the offered position is a specialty occupation within the meaning of the regulations.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has sustained that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is sustained.
