INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision in your case. All documents have been returned to the office which originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

If you believe the law was inappropriately applied or the analysis used in reaching the decision was inconsistent with the information provided or with precedent decisions, you may file a motion to reconsider. Such a motion must state the reasons for reconsideration and be supported by any pertinent precedent decisions. Any motion to reconsider must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reconsider, as required under 8 C.F.R. 103.5(a)(1)(i).

If you have new or additional information which you wish to have considered, you may file a motion to reopen. Such a motion must state the new facts to be proved at the reopened proceeding and be supported by affidavits or other documentary evidence. Any motion to reopen must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reopen, except that failure to file before this period expires may be excused in the discretion of the Service where it is demonstrated that the delay was reasonable and beyond the control of the applicant or petitioner. Id.

Any motion must be filed with the office which originally decided your case along with a fee of $110 as required under 8 C.F.R. 103.7.

FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the director and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a software development and consulting services business with 12 employees and a gross annual income of $660,000. It seeks to employ the beneficiary as a software engineer for a period of three years. The director determined the petitioner, as the beneficiary's agent, had not established that it had provided employment contracts including a complete itinerary of services to be performed by the beneficiary. The director also determined that, without such contracts, the Service was unable to determine whether the petitioner had complied with the terms of the labor condition application.

On appeal, counsel submits a brief.

Section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b), provides in part for nonimmigrant classification to qualified aliens who are coming temporarily to the United States to perform services in a specialty occupation. Section 214(i)(1) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1184(i)(1), defines a "specialty occupation" as an occupation that requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge, and attainment of a bachelor's or higher degree in the specific specialty (or its equivalent) as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States.

Pursuant to section 214(i)(2) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1184(i)(2), to qualify as an alien coming to perform services in a specialty occupation the beneficiary must hold full state licensure to practice in the occupation, if such licensure is required to practice in the occupation. In addition, the beneficiary must have completed the degree required for the occupation, or have experience in the specialty equivalent to the completion of such degree and recognition of expertise in the specialty through progressively responsible positions relating to the specialty.

8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(2)(i)(F), Agents as petitioners, states:

A United States agent may file a petition in cases involving workers who are traditionally self-employed or workers who use agents to arrange short-term employment on their behalf with numerous employers, and in cases where a foreign employer authorizes the agent to act on its behalf. A United States agent may be: the actual employer of the beneficiary, the representative of both the employer and the beneficiary, or, a person or entity authorized by the employer to act for, in place of, the employer as its agent. A petition filed by a United States agent is subject to the following conditions;

(1) An agent performing the function of an employer must guarantee the wages and other terms and conditions of employment by contractual agreement with the beneficiary or beneficiaries of the petition. The agent/employer must also provide an itinerary of definite employment and information on any other services planned for the period of time requested.

(2) A person or company in business as an agent may file the H petition involving multiple employers as the representative of both the employers and the beneficiary or beneficiaries if the supporting documentation includes a complete itinerary of services or engagements. The itinerary shall specify the dates of each service or engagement, the names and addresses of the actual employers, and the names and addresses of the establishment, venues, or locations where the services will be performed. In questionable cases, a contract between the employers and the beneficiary or beneficiaries may be required. The burden is on the agent to explain the terms and conditions of the employment and to provide any required documentation.

(3) A foreign employer, who, through a United States agent, files a petition for an H nonimmigrant alien is responsible for complying with all of the employer sanctions provisions of section 274A of the Act and 8 CFR part 274a.

8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(ii) states, in part, that:

United States employer means a person, firm, corporation, contractor, or other association, or organization in the United States which:

- (1) Engages a person to work within the United States;
- (2) Has an employer-employee relationship with respect to employees under this part, as indicated by the fact that it may hire, pay, fire, supervise, or otherwise control the work of any such employee; and
- (3) Has an Internal Revenue Service Tax identification number.

The director denied the petition because the petitioner had not established that, as the beneficiary's agent, it had provided employment contracts including a complete itinerary of services to be performed by the beneficiary. The director also determined that, without such contracts, the Service was unable to determine whether the petitioner had complied with the terms of the labor condition application. On appeal, counsel states, in part, that the petitioner plans for the beneficiary to work on in-house development projects. Counsel further states that the petitioner, as the beneficiary's employer, will have control over the beneficiary's work and will pay his salary.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(iii)(B), the petitioner shall submit the following with an H-1B petition involving a specialty occupation:

1. A certification from the Secretary of Labor that the petitioner has filed a labor condition application with the Secretary,
2. A statement that it will comply with the terms of the labor condition application for the duration of the alien's authorized period of stay,
3. Evidence that the alien qualifies to perform services in the specialty occupation . . .

The petitioner has provided a certified labor condition application and a statement that it will comply with the terms of the labor condition application.

The record contains the following:

- * Consulting Agreement dated April 2, 2001, between the petitioner and California Independent System Operator Corporation, signed only by the petitioner, and three work orders, signed only by the petitioner;
- * Agreement with Agency for Technical Temporary Personnel Services dated March 1, 2001, between the petitioner and Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., signed only by the petitioner, (and subsequent e-mail correspondence);
- * Purchase Order from St. Petersburg College dated July 25, 2001, addressed to the petitioner for technical consulting services;
- * Software Suppliers Agreement dated August 30, 2000, between the petitioner and Avakai Information Networks;
- * Software Suppliers Agreement dated January 22, 2001, between the petitioner and Time Trust Inc.;
- * Software Suppliers Agreement dated August 9, 2000, between the petitioner and Tech Empower, Inc.

The information in the record indicates that the petitioner is the beneficiary's employer and would be paying the beneficiary's salary. As such, the petitioner has overcome the objection of the director.

The petition may not be approved, however, as the labor condition application was certified on March 22, 2001, a date subsequent to February 28, 2001, the filing date of the visa petition. Regulations at 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(i)(B)(1) provide that before filing a petition for H-1B classification in a specialty occupation, the petitioner shall obtain a certification from the Department of Labor that it has filed a labor condition application.

Beyond the decision of the director, the record contains insufficient evidence to demonstrate that the beneficiary is qualified to perform the duties of the specialty occupation. A review of the Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook, 2002-2003 edition, finds that the usual requirement for employment as a computer scientist, systems analyst, or engineer is a baccalaureate degree in computer science, information science, or management information systems. It is noted that the record does not contain any evidence that the beneficiary's educational and employment backgrounds are equivalent to a degree in computer science, information science, or management information systems, such as an evaluation from an official who has authority to grant college-level credit for training and/or experience in the specialty at an accredited college or university which has a program for granting such credit based on an individual's training and/or work experience, as required by 8 C.F.R. 214.2(h)(4)(iii)(D)(1). As this matter will be dismissed on the grounds discussed, this issue need not be examined further.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden. Accordingly, the decision of the director will not be disturbed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
