DISCUSSION: The Director, California Service Center, denied the nonimmigrant visa petition. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be rejected as untimely filed.

In order to properly file an appeal, the regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(2)(i) provides that the affected party must file the complete appeal within 30 days after service of the unfavorable decision. If the decision was mailed, the appeal must be filed within 33 days. See 8 C.F.R. § 103.5a(b).

The record indicates the following facts. The director issued the decision on March 27, 2003, by a letter which was properly addressed to the petitioner and which gave the petitioner proper notice that it had 33 days to file the appeal. The matters that the petitioner submitted on appeal – a Form I-290B (Notice of Appearance) and an accompanying letter, both dated April 29, 2003 - were first received by Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) on April 30, 2003, or 34 days after the decision was issued. Because these documents were not accompanied by the required filing fee, CIS could not accept them, and, accordingly, returned them to the petitioner with a notice about the fee. CIS next received the Form I-290B and accompanying letter on May 14, 2003, or 48 days after the decision was issued. Accordingly, the appeal was untimely filed.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(2)(v)(B)(2) states that, if an untimely appeal meets the requirements of a motion to reopen or a motion to reconsider, the appeal must be treated as a motion, and a decision must be made on the merits of the case. The official having jurisdiction over a motion is the official who made the last decision in the proceeding, in this case the service center director. See 8 C.F.R. § 103.5(a)(1)(ii). The director declined to treat the late appeal as a motion and forwarded the matter to the AAO.

As the appeal was untimely filed, the appeal must be rejected.

ORDER: The appeal is rejected.
