DISCUSSION: The application for permanent resident status under the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act was denied by the Director, Missouri Service Center. It was reopened and denied again by the Director, National Benefits Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The directors concluded the applicant had not established that she had applied for class membership in any of the requisite legalization class-action lawsuits prior to October 1, 2000 and, therefore, denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant merely states "I am a 245 A member."

An applicant for permanent resident status under the LIFE Act must establish that before October 1, 2000, he or she filed a written claim with the Attorney General for class membership in any of the following legalization class-action lawsuits: Catholic Social Services, Inc. v. Meese, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (CSS), League of United Latin American Citizens v. INS, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (LULAC), or Zambrano v. INS, vacated sub nom. Immigration and Naturalization Service v. Zambrano, 509 U.S. 918 (1993) (Zambrano). See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.10.

The regulations provide an illustrative list of documents that an applicant may submit to establish that he or she filed a written claim for class membership before October 1, 2000. Those regulations also permit the submission of "[a]ny other relevant document(s)." See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.14.

The applicant failed to submit any documentation addressing this requirement when the application was filed. Furthermore, she has not provided any documentation regarding that point on rebuttal or on appeal. Given this failure to document that she filed a timely written claim for class membership, and the fact that there are no records within Citizenship and Immigration Services relating to a request for class membership, the applicant is ineligible for permanent residence under section 1104 of the LIFE Act.

Section 1104(c)(2)(B)(i) of the LIFE Act provides that each applicant for permanent resident status must establish that he or she entered and commenced residing in the United States prior to January 1, 1982. On her G-325A Biographic Information Form that she completed for her asylum application dated January 7, 1995, the applicant stated that she resided abroad until October 1992 when she first entered the United States from Guatemala. On another G-325A form that she completed for her LIFE adjustment of status application dated April 15, 2002, the applicant stated that she resided abroad until January 1989 when she first entered the United States from Mexico. In either case, given this person's inability to meet this requirement, the applicant is ineligible for permanent residence under section 1104 of the LIFE Act.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
