IN RE: Petitioner: [Redacted]
Beneficiary: [Redacted]

PETITION: Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker Pursuant to Section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b)

ON BEHALF OF PETITIONER:

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The service center director denied the nonimmigrant visa petition and the matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed. The petition will be denied.

The petitioner is a corporation operating several bakery/restaurant/coffee shops and seeks to employ the beneficiary as an accountant. It endeavors to classify him as a nonimmigrant worker in a specialty occupation pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b).

The director denied the petition because a certified labor condition application (LCA) was not obtained prior to the filing of the Form I-129 petition. Subsequent to the director's decision, the petitioner submitted an LCA for the proffered position which was certified on June 7, 2006.

The issue to be discussed in this proceeding is whether a certified LCA was obtained prior to the filing of the Form I-129 petition.

Section 101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(H)(i)(b), provides, in part, for the classification of qualified nonimmigrant aliens who are coming temporarily to the United States to perform services in a specialty occupation.

Section 101(a)(15)(H) of the Act defines an H-1B nonimmigrant as:

[A]n alien who is coming temporarily to the United States to perform services . . . in a specialty occupation . . . and with respect to whom the Secretary of Labor determines and certifies to the Attorney General that the intending employer has filed with the Secretary of Labor an application under section 1182(n)(1)

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 214.2(h)(4)(iii)(B)(1) provides that the petitioner shall submit with an H-1B petition "a certification from the Secretary of Labor that the petitioner has filed a labor condition application with the Secretary." The regulations further provide at 8 C.F.R. § 214.2(h)(4)(i)(B)(1):

Before filing a petition for H-1B classification in a specialty occupation the petitioner shall obtain a certification from the Department of Labor that it has filed a labor condition application in the occupational specialty in which the alien(s) will be employed.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(b)(12), "an application or petition shall be denied where evidence submitted in response to a request for initial evidence does not establish filing eligibility at the time the application or petition was filed. . . ." The Form I-129 petition was filed January 6, 2006. On March 23, 2006, the director requested, in part, that the petitioner provide a properly certified LCA. In response to that request the petitioner submitted an LCA certified on December 31, 2002, valid from January 10, 2003 through January 10, 2006. That LCA, however, was from a prior employer/petitioner, not the petitioner in the present case, and it did not cover the intended dates of employment noted in the petition. The petition was accordingly denied. As previously noted, subsequent to the director's denial, the petitioner submitted a new LCA certified on June 7, 2006, subsequent to the filing of the initial petition. The petition must, accordingly, be denied because certification was not obtained prior to the filing of the H-1B petition.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has failed to sustain that burden.
