Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The petitioner is a naturalized citizen of the United States who seeks to classify the beneficiary, a native and citizen of Ethiopia, as the fiancée of a United States citizen pursuant to section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(K).

The director denied the petition after determining that the petitioner and the beneficiary had not personally met within two years before the date of filing the petition as required by section 214(d) of the Act. In reaching this conclusion, the director found that the petitioner had failed to establish that he warranted a favorable exercise of discretion to waive this statutory requirement.

Section 101(a)(15)(K) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)(K), defines "fiance(e)" as:

An alien who is the fiancée or fiancé of a citizen of the United States and who seeks to enter the United States solely to conclude a valid marriage with the petitioner within ninety days after entry....

Section 214(d) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1184(d), states in pertinent part that a fiance(e) petition:

shall be approved only after satisfactory evidence is submitted by the petitioner to establish that the parties have previously met in person within two years before the date of filing the petition, have a bonafide intention to marry, and are legally able and actually willing to conclude a valid marriage in the United States within a period of ninety days after the alien's arrival....

(Emphasis added.) The petitioner filed the Petition for Alien Fiance(e) (Form I-129F) on May 22, 2001. Therefore, the petitioner and the beneficiary were required to have met during the period that began on May 22, 1999 and ended on May 22, 2001.

In response to Question #19 on the Form I-129F, the petitioner indicated that he had been raised with the beneficiary and that they had a child together in Ethiopia. He further indicated that he fled Ethiopia and resided in a refugee camp in Kenya for three years before immigrating to the United States. He received asylum in the United States. The petitioner stated that he was unable to travel to Ethiopia for fear of future persecution.

On appeal, the petitioner states that traveling to a third country to meet his fiancée would impose a financial burden on him. He further states that his fiancée would be unable to obtain a visa from the Ethiopian government.

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 214.2(k)(2), a director may exercise discretion and waive the requirement of a personal meeting between the two parties if it is established that compliance would:

- (1) Result in extreme hardship to the petitioner; or
- (2) Violate strict and long-established customs of the beneficiary's foreign culture or social practice.

In the instant case, the petitioner's stated reasons for needing a waiver are not persuasive. Financial constraints are normal difficulties encountered in complying with the requirement and are not considered extreme hardship to the petitioner. The petitioner failed to provide corroborating evidence that his fiancée would be unable to obtain a visa from Ethiopia to leave Ethiopia to travel to a third country. The petitioner failed to fully explain what he feared would happen should he return to Ethiopia. In addition, the petitioner has failed to establish that compliance with the requirement would violate strict and long-established customs of the beneficiary's foreign culture or social practice.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The petitioner has not met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
