IN RE: Petitioner:

Beneficiary:

Petition: Petition to Classify Orphan as an Immediate Relative Pursuant to Section 101(b)(1)(F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. 1101(b)(1)(F)

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The District Director, New York, New York revoked approval and denied the immigrant visa petition. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The district director concluded the petitioner had failed to establish that the beneficiary's sole or surviving parent was unable to provide for the child's basic needs, consistent with local standards, as set forth in Volume 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations (8 C.F.R.) section 204.3(b), and as required by section 101(b)(1)(F) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1101(b)(1)(F). The petition was denied accordingly.

The applicant asserts on appeal that she, "[d]id not understand that filing for her adoptive child as an orphan was incorrect", and she requests information on how to immigrate her child. The petitioner makes no other assertions and she submits no documents or evidence on appeal.

8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(v) states in pertinent part:

Summary dismissal. An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

The AAO finds that the applicant has failed to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact on appeal. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
