INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The order of supervision in this matter was declared breached by the Field Office Director, Detention and Removal, Miami, Florida, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be sustained.

The record reflects that a removal hearing was held on May 27, 2005, and the alien was ordered removed from the United States to Cuba. On August 29, 2005, a Form I-220B, Order of Supervision, was issued by Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), which specified the conditions of supervision. The Form I-352, Immigration Bond, dated August 29, 2005, states that the obligor posted a $10,000 bond conditioned upon "compliance with an alien." The record contains no documentation clarifying the meaning of "compliance with an alien." On March 13, 2006, the field office director informed the obligor that the bond had been breached on February 3, 2006, as the alien had violated the conditions of the Form I-220B upon his arrest and subsequent confinement. The Form I-220B, however, is signed by the alien. It is not a part of the bond contract with the obligor.<sup>1</sup>

The record does not contain an explanation for what "compliance with an alien" is and, therefore, the bond is invalid.

Counsel's arguments on appeal need not be addressed as the bond is not enforceable.

ORDER: The appeal is sustained. The field office director's decision declaring the bond breached is canceled.

<sup>1</sup> Although the alien may have violated the terms of his supervision and be subject to penalties by ICE, the bond contract is not valid as it is incomplete.
