IN RE:

Applicant:

APPLICATION:

Application for Permission to Reapply for Admission into the United States after Deportation or Removal under section 212(a)(9)(A)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(9)(A)(iii)

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for permission to reapply for admission after removal was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The Director's decision will be withdrawn, and the matter will be remanded to him for further action.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Mexico who on August 16, 1997, attempted to procure admission by fraud and willful misrepresentation of a material fact. The applicant presented an Alien Registration Card (Form I-551) that did not belong to her. The applicant was found inadmissible pursuant to section 212(a)(6)(C)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1182 (a)(6)(C)(i) for having attempted to procure admission into the United States by fraud and section 212(a)(7)(A)(i)(I) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1182 (a)(7)(A)(i)(I) for being an immigrant not in possession of a valid immigrant visa or other valid entry document. Consequently on August 19, 1997, the applicant was expeditiously removed from the United States pursuant to section 235(b)(1) of the Act 8 U.S.C. § 1225(b)(1). The record reflects that the applicant reentered the United States on an unknown date but prior to November 2, 1998, the day she gave birth to one of her children, without a lawful admission or parole and without permission to reapply for admission in violation of section 276 the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1326 (a felony). The applicant is the beneficiary of an approved Petition for Alien Relative (Form I-130) filed by her U.S. citizen daughter. The applicant is inadmissible under section 212(a)(9)(A)(i) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(9)(A)(i). She seeks permission to reapply for admission into the United States under section 212(a)(9)(A)(iii) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(9)(A)(iii) in order to remain in the United States and reside with her U.S. citizen children.

The Director determined that section 241(a)(5) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1231(a)(5) applies in this matter and the applicant is not eligible and may not apply for any relief. In addition the Director determined that the applicant was inadmissible under section 212(a)(9)(B) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(9)(B), for having been unlawfully present in the United States for a period of one year or more and denied the Application for Permission to Reapply for Admission After Deportation or Removal (Form I-212) accordingly. See Director's Decision dated October 8, 2004.

Section 241(a) detention, release, and removal or aliens ordered removed.-

(5) reinstatement of removal orders against aliens illegally reentering.- if the attorney General finds that an aliens has reentered the United States illegally after having been removed or having departed voluntarily, under an order of removal, the prior order of removal is reinstated from its original date and is not subject to being reopened or reviewed, the aliens is not eligible and may not apply for any relief under this Act [chapter], and the aliens shall be removed under the prior order at any time after reentry.

In its August 14, 2004, decision, Perez-Gonzalez v. Ashcroft, 379 F.3d 783 (9th Cir. 2004), the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that a Mexican national who returned to the United States following a deportation and had his deportation order reinstated might nonetheless obtain adjustment of status if his Form I-212 was granted. The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals stated in Perez-Gonzalez that: "Given the fact that Perez-Gonzalez applied for the waiver before his deportation order was reinstated, he was not yet subject to its terms and, therefore, was not barred from applying for relief." The Court further stated: "Prior administrative decisions of the Bureau of Immigration Appeals confirm the fact that permission to reapply is available on a nunc pro tunc basis, in which the petitioner receives permission to reapply for admission after he or she has already reentered the country."

The record of proceedings does not reveal that the applicant's prior removal order was reinstated at the time she filed the Form I-212. Since this case arises in the Ninth Circuit, Perez-Gonzalez is controlling. The applicant is eligible to file a Form I-212 and she is not subject to section 241(a)(5) of the Act.

The proceeding in the present case is for an application for permission to reapply for admission into the United States after deportation or removal and therefore the AAO will not discuss the applicant's potential grounds of inadmissibility under section 212(a)(9)(B) of the Act. The proceeding in the present case is limited to the issue of whether or not the applicant meets the requirements necessary for the ground of inadmissibility under section 212(a)(9)(A)(ii) of the Act, to be waived.

This office finds that although the applicant is not subject to section 212(a)(5) of the Act, she is clearly inadmissible under section 212(a)(9)(A) of the Act and therefore must received permission to reapply for admission.

Section 212(a)(9)(A) of the Act states in pertinent part:

(A) Certain aliens previously removed.-

(i) Arriving aliens.- Any alien who has been ordered removed under section 235(b)(1) or at the end of proceedings under section 240 initiated upon the alien's arrival in the United States and who again seeks admission within five years of the date of such removal (or within 20 years in the case of a second or subsequent removal or at any time in the case of an alien convicted of an aggravated felony) is inadmissible.

(iii) Exception.- Clauses (i) and (ii) shall not apply to an alien seeking admission within a period if, prior to the date of the aliens' reembarkation at a place outside the United States or attempt to be admitted from foreign continuous territory, the Attorney General has consented to the aliens' reapplying for admission.

On appeal the applicant does not dispute the fact that she violated the laws of the United States when she reentered after her August 19, 1997, removal, but states that she has six minor children who need her help. In addition she requests that her Form I-212 be granted in order to apply for adjustment of status.

The Director denied the Form I-212 because he found that no purpose would be served in approving the application for permission to reapply after deportation or removal, since the applicant was not eligible for any relief or benefit from the application. As noted above the applicant is eligible to file a Form I-212 pursuant to section 212(a)(9)(A)(iii) of the Act and the findings in Perez-Gonzalez.

The Director did not properly adjudicate the Form I-212 pursuant to section 212(a)(9)(A)(iii) of the Act. In view of the foregoing, the Director's decision will be withdrawn and the record will be remanded to him in order to properly adjudicate the Form I-212 under section 212(a)(9)(A)(iii) of the Act and enter a new decision, which, if adverse to the applicant is to be certified to the AAO.

ORDER: The Director's decision is withdrawn. The matter is remanded to him for further action consistent with the foregoing discussion.
