Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, Nebraska Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a citizen of Haiti who resides in the United States in Norwich, Connecticut. The applicant is seeking to obtain a reentry permit pursuant to section 223.

The director determined that the record fails to establish that the applicant is a lawful permanent resident or conditional permanent resident of the United States and, therefore, does not qualify for the issuance of a reentry permit.

On appeal, the applicant states that this is the fourth time he has applied for a "card or visa," and that he keeps getting rejected.

Regulations at 8 C.F.R. § 223.2(b)(1) allow for the approval of an application for a reentry permit if the application (Form I-131) is filed by a lawful permanent resident or conditional permanent resident who is in the United States at the time of application.

In his decision, the director noted that the record indicates that the applicant is a parolee and not a lawful permanent resident or a conditional resident of the United States.

As the record contains no evidence to demonstrate that the applicant in this matter is a lawful permanent resident or conditional permanent resident of the United States, this application may not be approved.

The burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the applicant. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361. The applicant has not met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
