Date: APR 07 2005

IN RE: Applicant: [REDACTED]

APPLICATION: Application for Travel Document Pursuant to Section 223 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1203.

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT: SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, Nebraska Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Cambodia, who seeks to obtain a travel document (reentry permit) under section 223 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1203. The Director denied the application as a matter of discretion after determining that the applicant has adverse information recorded against him.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 223.1 states in pertinent part:

(a) Reentry permit.

A reentry permit allows a permanent resident to apply for admission to the United States upon return from abroad during the period of the permit's validity without the necessity of obtaining a returning resident visa.

On appeal the applicant asks to be informed as to what adverse information has been recorded against him. In addition he states that due to personal family reason he needs to travel overseas immediately.

A search of the electronic records of Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) reveals that the applicant has a criminal record, which may make him inadmissible to the United States.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 223.2 states in pertinent part:

(e) Processing.

Approval of an application is solely at the discretion of the Service. . . .

As note above the approval of an application is solely at the discretion of the Service and based on the record of proceedings a favorable exercise of the Secretary's discretion is not warranted. Accordingly, the appeal will be dismissed.

It is noted that a lawful permanent resident of the United States who is in possession of evidence of lawful admission (Form I-551) and a valid passport and intends to reenter the United States within one year of his/her last departure may not require a reentry permit to reenter. However, if a lawful permanent resident seeks to reenter after an absence of one year or more, and does not possess a reentry permit, he/she should contact a United States consulate abroad for further information regarding his/her possible options for return to the United States.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
