Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The termination of the applicant's temporary resident status by the Director, California Service Center, is before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director terminated the applicant's temporary resident status because the applicant failed to file the application for adjustment of status from temporary to permanent residence within the 43-month application period.

On appeal, the applicant resubmits a statement in which he provides a history of his attempts to inquire about an earlier application which he asserts he had filed.

The status of an alien lawfully admitted for temporary residence under section 245A(a)(1) of the Act may be terminated at any time if the alien fails to file for adjustment of status from temporary to permanent resident on Form I-698 within forty-three (43) months of the date he/she was granted status as a temporary resident. 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(u)(1)(iv).

The applicant was granted temporary resident status on October 15, 1992. The 43-month eligibility period for filing for adjustment expired on May 15, 1996. The Application for Adjustment of Status from Temporary to Permanent Resident (Form I-698) was filed on March 27, 2000. The director therefore denied the untimely Form I-698 application, and subsequently terminated the applicant's temporary resident status.

The applicant asserts he filed an earlier Form I-698 around November 19, 1993. He explains that he cannot provide a copy of such application. As stated by the director, who addressed the applicant's assertions in a comprehensive manner, there simply is no evidence of the claimed 1993 filing.

The applicant's statements made on appeal have been considered. Nevertheless, there is no waiver available, even for humanitarian reasons, of the requirements stated above. As the applicant has not overcome the grounds for termination of status, the appeal must be dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
