ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. The file has been returned to the office that originally decided your case. If your appeal was dismissed, you no longer have a case pending before this office, and you are not entitled to file a motion to reopen or reconsider your case.

Robert P. Wieman, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status was terminated by the Director, Vermont Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director terminated the application because he found that the Form I-698 Application to adjust Status from Temporary to Permanent Resident was not filed within 43 months after the approval of the application for temporary resident status.

On appeal, the applicant confirmed her residency in the United States since 1976, and indicated that she cares for two grandchildren and one child with multiple sclerosis. The applicant also explained that she did not timely file her application for permanent residence because of financial hardship.

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed that fails to state the reason for appeal, or is patently frivolous, will be summarily dismissed.

A review of the decision reveals the director accurately set forth a legitimate basis for denial of the application. On appeal, the applicant has not presented additional evidence. Nor has she addressed the grounds stated for denial. Specifically, the applicant provided no evidence that her Form I-698 application was, in fact, timely filed. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
