Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status pursuant to the terms of the settlement agreements reached in Catholic Social Services, Inc., et al., v. Ridge, et al., CIV. NO. S-86-1343-LKK (E.D. Cal) January 23, 2004, and Felicity Mary Newman, et al., v. United States Immigration and Citizenship Services, et al., CIV. NO. 87-4757-WDK (C.D. Cal) February 17, 2004, (CSS/Newman Settlement Agreements) was denied by the District Director, New York, New York, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The district director determined that the applicant had not demonstrated that he had continuously resided in the United States in an unlawful status since before January 1, 1982 through the date that he attempted to file a Form I-687, Application for Status as a Temporary Resident, with the Immigration and Naturalization Service (the Service), now Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS), in the original legalization application period between May 5, 1987 to May 4, 1988. Therefore, the district director concluded that the applicant was not eligible to adjust to temporary resident status pursuant to the terms of the CSS/Newman Settlement Agreements and denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant submits additional evidence in support of his claim.

An applicant for temporary resident status must establish entry into the United States before January 1, 1982, and continuous residence in the United States in an unlawful status since such date and through the date the application is filed. Section 245A(a)(2) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a(a)(2).

An alien applying for adjustment to temporary resident status must establish that he or she has been continuously physically present in the United States since November 6, 1986. Section 245A(a)(3) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a(a)(3).

For purposes of establishing residence and presence in accordance with the regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(b), “until the date of filing” shall mean until the date the alien attempted to file a completed Form I-687 application and fee or was caused not to timely file, consistent with the class member definitions set forth in the CSS/Newman Settlement Agreements. CSS Settlement Agreement paragraph 11 at page 6; Newman Settlement Agreement paragraph 11 at page 10.

An alien applying for adjustment of status has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that he or she has resided in the United States for the requisite periods, is admissible to the United States under the provisions of section 245A of the Act, and is otherwise eligible for adjustment of status. The inference to be drawn from the documentation provided shall depend on the extent of the documentation, its credibility and amenability to verification. See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(d)(5).

Although the regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(d)(3) provides an illustrative list of contemporaneous documents that an applicant may submit in support of his or her claim of continuous residence in the United States in an unlawful status since prior to January 1, 1982, the submission of any other relevant document is permitted pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(d)(3)(vi)(L).

The “preponderance of the evidence” standard requires that the evidence demonstrate that the applicant's claim is “probably true,” where the determination of “truth” is made based on the factual circumstances of each individual case. Matter of E-M-, 20 I&N Dec. 77, 79-80 (Comm. 1989). In evaluating the evidence, Matter of E-M- also stated that “[t]ruth is to be determined not by the quantity of evidence alone but by its quality.” Id. Thus, in adjudicating the application pursuant to the preponderance of the evidence standard, the director must examine each piece of evidence for relevance, probative value, and credibility, both individually and within the context of the totality of the evidence, to determine whether the fact to be proven is probably true.

Even if the director has some doubt as to the truth, if the petitioner submits relevant, probative, and credible evidence that leads the director to believe that the claim is “probably true” or “more likely than not,” the applicant or petitioner has satisfied the standard of proof. See U.S. v. Cardozo-Fonseca, 480 U.S. 421 (1987) (defining “more likely than not” as a greater than 50 percent probability of something occurring). If the director can articulate a material doubt, it is appropriate for the director to either request additional evidence or, if that doubt leads the director to believe that the claim is probably not true, deny the application or petition.

At issue in this proceeding is whether the applicant has submitted sufficient credible evidence to establish continuous residence in the United States from prior to January 1, 1982 through the date he attempted to file a Form I-687 application with the Service in the original legalization application period from May 5, 1987 to May 4, 1988. Here, the submitted evidence is not relevant, probative, and credible.

The record shows that the applicant submitted a Form I-687 application and a Form I-687 Supplement, CSS/Newman Class Membership Worksheet, to CIS on February 17, 2005. At block #30 of the Form I-687 application where applicants are instructed to list all residences in the United States since initial entry, the applicant indicated that he resided at [REDACTED] New York, New York” from 1982 to 1985 and at [REDACTED], New York, New York” from 1985 to 1991. At block #33, where applicants are instructed to list all employment since arrival in the United States, the applicant indicated that he worked for Signi [REDACTED] New York, New York” as a tailor from 1982 to 1986.

On November 7, 2005, the applicant appeared at the New York District Office for his legalization interview. The applicant stated in a sworn statement before an immigration officer, “I first entered the United States [in] March 1982.”

In an attempt to establish continuous unlawful residence in this country since prior to January 1, 1982, the applicant submitted an affidavit dated November 3, 2005, from [REDACTED] stating that he first met the applicant 14 years ago, sometime in 1991, when they worked together in a store.

does not provide the name of the store at which they both purportedly worked, nor does he provide the applicant's address(es) during the period of their acquaintance or any other verifiable information.

The applicant also provided an affidavit dated November 1, 2005, from stating that she first met the applicant [illegible] years ago when they both worked in a store. has not provided the name or address of the store where she and the applicant purportedly worked together, the applicant's address(es) during the period of their acquaintance, or any other verifiable information.

The director denied the application on March 3, 2006, because the applicant failed to establish entry into the United States prior to January 1, 1982 and continuous unlawful residence in the this country from that date to the date the applicant attempted to file his legalization application.

On appeal, the applicant submits a letter from Verizon dated March 2, 2006. This document is irrelevant to the question of the applicant's continuous physical presence in the United States during the requisite period.

The applicant admitted in a sworn statement during his legalization interview that he didn't enter the United States until March 1982. The two affidavits submitted by the applicant relating to his residence in the United States from prior to January 1, 1982 lack sufficient detail, contain no verifiable information, and most importantly, lack testimony regarding the applicant's continuous residence in the United States for the entire period from prior to January 1, 1982 through the date that he attempted to file a Form I-687 application with the Service in the original legalization application period between May 5, 1987 to May 4, 1988.

The absence of sufficiently detailed supporting documentation that provides testimony to corroborate the applicant's claim of continuous residence for the entire requisite period seriously detracts from the credibility of this claim. Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(d)(5), the inference to be drawn from the documentation provided shall depend on the extent of the documentation, its credibility and amenability to verification. The applicant has failed to submit sufficient credible documentation to meet his burden of proof in establishing that he has resided in the United States since prior to January 1, 1982 by a preponderance of the evidence as required under both 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(d)(5) and Matter of E- M-, 20 I&N Dec. at 77.

Given the applicant's reliance upon documents with minimal probative value, it is concluded that he has failed to establish continuous residence in an unlawful status in the United States from prior to January 1, 1982 as required under section 245A(a)(2) of the Act. The applicant is, therefore, ineligible for temporary resident status under section 245A of the Act on this basis.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
