IN RE:

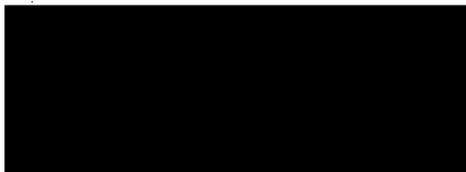

Applicant:

APPLICATION:

Application for Status as a Temporary Resident pursuant to Section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. If your appeal was sustained, or if the matter was remanded for further action, you will be contacted. If your appeal was dismissed, you no longer have a case pending before this office, and you are not entitled to file a motion to reopen or reconsider your case.

Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The Director, Vermont Service Center terminated the applicant's temporary resident status on September 16, 1994. The Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) remanded a subsequent appeal. On remand, the director again issued a decision terminating the applicant's temporary status. The matter is now before the AAO on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The director terminated the applicant's status because the Form I-687, Application for Status as a Temporary Resident, was approved in error, as it was lacking required information and documentation including a service interview, proof of continued residency from prior to January 1, 1982, fingerprints and proof of financial responsibility.

On appeal, the applicant states that he explained his reasons for his appeal in his prior Form I-694, Notice of Appeal of Decision under Section 210 or 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act, filed on October 3, 1994. In that appeal, the applicant stated that he failed to respond on a timely basis to the service center's Notice of Intent to Terminate his temporary status because he lacked English skills and worked every day. The applicant submitted no additional documentation in support of his appeal.

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed that fails to state the reason for appeal, or is patently frivolous, will be summarily dismissed. The applicant has failed to address the reasons stated for denial and has not provided any additional evidence on appeal. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
