Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status was denied by the Director, National Benefits Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director denied the application because he found the applicant had not established by a preponderance of the evidence that she meets the requirements to adjust her status as a temporary resident.

On appeal, the applicant indicated only that she would submit a brief in support of her appeal within 30 calendar days. Nearly one year has passed since the applicant initially submitted her Form I-694 Notice of Appeal, and the applicant has not submitted a brief or any additional information. Therefore, the record will be considered complete. The applicant provided no additional evidence or explanation to overcome the reasons for denial of her application.

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed that fails to state the reason for appeal, or is patently frivolous, will be summarily dismissed.

A review of the decision reveals the director accurately set forth a legitimate basis for denial of the application. On appeal, the applicant has not presented additional evidence. Nor has she addressed the grounds stated for denial. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
