Robert P. Wiemann, Chief
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for Temporary Resident Status was denied by the Director of the Los Angeles District Office and that decision is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be rejected.

The director denied the application because she determined that the applicant did not establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that he maintained continuous residence in the United States from January 1, 1982 to a period of time between May 5, 1987 and May 4, 1988. Specifically, the director noted in her Notice of Intent to Deny (NOID) that the evidence submitted by the applicant failed to establish that he entered the United States before January 1, 1982. The director granted the applicant thirty (30) days within which to submit additional evidence in support of his application. Though the director noted that the applicant did submit new evidence in support of his application, she found that this new evidence did not allow the applicant to establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that he had maintained continuous residence for the duration of the requisite period. Therefore, the director found the applicant did not overcome her reasons for denial as stated in her NOID and denied the applicant's Application for Status as a Temporary Resident.

An adverse decision regarding temporary resident status may be appealed to the Administrative Appeals Office. Any appeal with the required fee shall be filed with the Service Center within thirty (30) days after service of the notice of denial. An appeal received after the thirty-day period has tolled will not be accepted. See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(p). Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.5a(b), whenever a person has the right or is required to do some act within a prescribed period after the service of notice upon him and the notice is served by mail, three days shall be added to the prescribed period. Service by mail is complete upon mailing. If the last day of the period so computed falls on a Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday, the period shall run until the end of the next day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, nor a legal holiday. 8 C.F.R. § 1.1(h).

The director issued her decision on March 17, 2006, and mailed it to the applicant's address of record. The applicant's appeal was received April 21, 2006, thirty-five (35) days after the notice of decision was issued. Therefore, the appeal was untimely filed, and must be rejected.

ORDER: The appeal is rejected.
