DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status pursuant to the terms of the settlement agreements reached in Catholic Social Services, Inc., et al., v. Ridge, et al., CIV. NO. S-86-1343-LKK (E.D. Cal) January 23, 2004, and Felicity Mary Newman, et al., v. United States Immigration and Citizenship Services, et al., CIV. NO. 87-4757-WDK (C.D. Cal) February 17, 2004 (CSS/Newman Settlement Agreements), was denied by the Director, National benefits Center. The decision is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant submitted a Form I-687, Application for Status as a Temporary Resident under Section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act (Act), and a Form I-687 Supplement, CSS/Newman Class Membership Worksheet. The director determined that the applicant had been convicted of a felony, perjury, and is therefore ineligible for temporary residence under Section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), section 212(a)(2)(A), 8 U.S.C. § 1182.

An alien who has been convicted of a felony or of three or more misdemeanors committed in the United States is ineligible for Temporary Resident status. 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(c)(1).

"Felony" means a crime committed in the United States punishable by imprisonment for a term of more than one year, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, except when the offense is defined by the state as a misdemeanor, and the sentence actually imposed is one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served. Under this exception, for purposes of 8 C.F.R. Part 245a, the crime shall be treated as a misdemeanor. 8 C.F.R. § 245a.1(p).

The term "conviction" means, with respect to an alien, a formal judgment of guilt of the alien entered by a court or, if adjudication of guilt has been withheld, where - (i) a judge or jury has found the alien guilty or the alien has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere or has admitted sufficient facts to warrant a finding of guilt, and (ii) the judge has ordered some form of punishment, penalty, or restraint on the alien's liberty to be imposed.

Section 101(a)(48)(A) of the Immigration and Naturalization Act (Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(48)(A).

The record contains court documents that reflect the applicant has been convicted of the felony offense of perjury in the Superior Court of Los Angeles, California, Van Nuys District on October 2, 2003 (Case No. [REDACTED] Section 118 of the California Penal Code).

The applicant on appeal states and he has presented a letter dated April 6, 2006, from the County of Los Angeles, California, that the applicant has "recently motioned for early dismissal and reduction of his felony to a misdemeanor." Therefore contrary to the applicant's statement on appeal, his felony conviction was not reduced to a misdemeanor.

Notwithstanding the above, under the current statutory definition of conviction provided at section 101(a)(48)(A) of the Act, no effect is to be given in immigration proceedings to a state action which purports to expunge, dismiss, cancel, vacate, discharge, or otherwise remove a guilty plea or other record of guilt or conviction by operation of a state rehabilitative statute. Matter of Roldan, 22 I&N Dec. 512 (BIA 1999). Any subsequent, rehabilitative action that overturns a state conviction, other than on the merits or for a violation of constitutional or statutory rights in the underlying criminal proceedings, is ineffective to expunge a conviction for immigration purposes. Id. at 523, 528. See also Matter of Rodriguez-Ruiz, 22 I&N Dec. 1378, 1379 (BIA 2000) (conviction vacated under a state criminal procedural statute, rather than a rehabilitative provision, remains vacated for immigration purposes).

In addition, in Matter of Pickering, a more recent precedent decision, the Board of Immigration Appeals reiterated that if a court vacates a conviction for reasons unrelated to a procedural or substantive defect in the underlying criminal proceedings, the alien remains “convicted” for immigration purposes. Matter of Pickering, 23 I&N Dec. 621, 624 (BIA 2003).

The applicant is, therefore, ineligible for temporary resident status under section 245A of the Act on this basis.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed as the applicant has been convicted of a felony. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
