

U.S. Citizenship
and Immigration Services

identifying data deleted to prevent clearly unwarranted
invasion of personal privacy

PUBLIC COPY

4

FILE:

Office: BOSTON

Date: MAY 01 2008

MSC 05 271 15576

IN RE:

Applicant:

APPLICATION:

Application for Status as a Temporary Resident pursuant to Section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. If your appeal was dismissed or rejected, all documents have been returned to the National Benefits Center. You no longer have a case pending before this office, and you are not entitled to file a motion to reopen or reconsider your case. If your appeal was sustained or remanded for further action, you will be contacted.

for Robert P. Wiemann, Chief Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status pursuant to the terms of the settlement agreements reached in Catholic Social Services, Inc., et al., v. Ridge, et al., CIV. NO. S-86-1343-LKK (E.D. Cal) January 23, 2004, and Felicity Mary Newman, et al., v. United States Immigration and Citizenship Services, et al., CIV. NO. 87-4757-WDK (C.D. Cal) February 17, 2004, (CSS/Newman Settlement Agreements) was denied by the District Director, Boston, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant submitted a Form I-687, Application for Status as a Temporary Resident under Section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act (Act), and a Form I-687 Supplement, CSS/Newman Class Membership Worksheet. The director determined that the applicant's prolonged absence suggests that he had not established by a preponderance of the evidence that he had continuously resided in the United States in an unlawful status for the duration of the requisite period. Therefore, the director denied the application, finding that the applicant had not met his burden of proof and was, therefore, not eligible to adjust to temporary resident status pursuant to the terms of the CSS/Newman Settlement Agreements.

On appeal, the applicant provides a general statement asserting, among other things, that his absence was brief and innocent, thereby maintaining that he is eligible for the immigration benefit sought.

An applicant for temporary resident status must establish entry into the United States before January 1, 1982, and continuous residence in the United States in an unlawful status since such date and through the date the application is filed. Section 245A(a)(2) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a(a)(2). The applicant must also establish that he or she has been continuously physically present in the United States since November 6, 1986 until the date of filing the application. 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(b)(1).

Under the CSS/Newman Settlement Agreements, for purposes of establishing residence and presence in accordance with the regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(b), "until the date of filing" shall mean until the date the alien attempted to file a completed Form I-687 application and fee or was caused not to timely file during the original legalization application period of May 5, 1987 to May 4, 1988. CSS Settlement Agreement paragraph 11 at page 6; Newman Settlement Agreement paragraph 11 at page 10.

An alien shall be regarded as having resided continuously in the United States if at the time of filing an application for temporary resident status, no single absence from the United States has exceeded forty-five (45) days, and the aggregate of all absences has not exceeded one hundred and eighty (180) days between January 1, 1982, through the date the application is filed, unless the alien can establish that due to emergent reasons the return to the United States could not be accomplished within the time period allowed, the alien was maintaining residence in the United States, and the departure was not based on an order of deportation. 8 C.F.R. § 245a.1(c).

If the applicant's absence exceeded the 45-day period allowed for a single absence, it must be determined if the untimely return of the applicant to the United States was due to an "emergent reason." Although this term is not defined in the regulations, Matter of C-, 19 I&N Dec. 808 (Comm. 1988), holds that emergent means "coming unexpectedly into being."

In the present matter, the record contains an interview sheet dated July 19, 2006 containing responses provided by the applicant under oath during his interview with a Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) officer. The information provided by the applicant during his interview included the approximate dates of his departure from the United States. Specifically, the applicant claimed that he returned to Sri Lanka, his native country, during the first week of June in 1984. The applicant further stated that he did not return to the United States until the third week of July 1984. Based on these dates of departure from and return to the United States, the director determined that the applicant remained outside the United States for a period that exceeded the 45 days allowed by regulation. See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.1(c). On appeal, the applicant made no assertion that his absence was in fact less than 45 days. He merely asserts that this absence was brief and innocent, but provides no explanation that would suggest that the absence was prolonged by an emergent reason. Based on the information submitted, the applicant failed to establish that he continuously resided in the United States for the requisite period and therefore failed to overcome the director's ground for denial.

An alien applying for adjustment of status has the burden of proving by a preponderance of evidence that he or she has continuously resided in an unlawful status in the United States from prior to January 1, 1982 through the date of filing, is admissible to the United States under the provisions of section 245A of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1255a, and is otherwise eligible for adjustment of status. 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(d)(5). Due to the applicant's prolonged absence, CIS cannot conclude that he continuously resided in the United States for the requisite period.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.