Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status pursuant to the terms of the settlement agreements reached in Catholic Social Services, Inc., et al., v. Ridge, et al., CIV. NO. S-86-1343-LKK (E.D. Cal) January 23, 2004, and Felicity Mary Newman, et al., v. United States Immigration and Citizenship Services, et al., CIV. NO. 87-4757-WDK (C.D. Cal) February 17, 2004 (CSS/Newman Settlement Agreements), was denied by the District Director, Miami. The decision is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be rejected.

The director denied the application because the applicant did not provide sufficient evidence to establish her eligibility for the benefit sought and the applicant had willfully submitted false and/or fraudulent applications in order to obtain benefits that she was not entitled or eligible to receive, and, as a result, that she was found inadmissible under section 212(a)(6)(C)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(6)(C)(i) and ordered removed on October 27, 2003. On appeal, the applicant submitted a Form I-694, Notice of Appeal of Decision Under Section 210 or 245A of the INA, signed by a representative of Caribbean Social Services Corp.

An applicant for temporary resident status may appeal an adverse decision on Form I-694. 8 C.F.R. § 245a.2(o). The applicant may be represented by an attorney or representative in accordance with 8 C.F.R. § 292. 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(iii)(B). The person acting in a representative capacity must be “authorized and qualified to represent,” and a notice of appearance must be signed by the applicant to authorize representation in order for the appearance to be recognized by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS). 8 C.F.R. § 292.4.

The regulations further provide that every application, petition, appeal, motion, request, or other document submitted on the form prescribed by the Department of Homeland Security regulations shall be executed and filed in accordance with the instructions on the form; and the instructions are incorporated into the particular section of the regulations requiring its submission. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(a)(1). Form I-694 includes the following instruction:

Any Form I-694 that is not signed or accompanied by the correct fee will be rejected with a notice that the Form I-694 is deficient. [An applicant] may correct the deficiency and resubmit the Form I-694.<sup>1</sup>

In this case the Form I-694 is not signed by the applicant, but rather by a representative from Caribbean Social Services Corp., whose name is not listed and whose signature is illegible. There is no Form G-28, Notice of Entry of Appearance of Attorney or Representative, in the file, to indicate that the individual who signed the form is an attorney or representative who is authorized to represent the applicant. As the appeal has not been signed and filed by the applicant or by any authorized representative, the appeal is deficient and has not been properly filed. The appeal, therefore, must be rejected.

ORDER: The appeal is rejected.

<sup>1</sup> Note, however, that a rejected application or petition will not retain a filing date. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(a)(7). As Form I-694 must be filed within 30 days of the notice of decision, it would not be possible to timely resubmit the Form I-694 in this case.
