If your appeal was dismissed, you no longer have a case pending before this office, and you are not entitled to file a motion to reopen or reconsider your case.

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for permanent resident status under the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act was denied by the Director, Missouri Service Center, and is now before the Administration Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director concluded the applicant had not established that he had applied for class membership in any of the requisite legalization class-action lawsuits prior to October 1, 2000 and, therefore, denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant asserts that he filed applications for temporary residence under both section 210 and section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), as well as a written claim for class membership in the CSS v. Reno class-action lawsuit.

An applicant for permanent resident status under the LIFE Act must establish that before October 1, 2000, he or she filed a written claim with the Attorney General for class membership in any of the following legalization class-action lawsuits: Catholic Social Services, Inc. v. Meese, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993), League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC) v. INS, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc. (CSS), 509 U.S. 43 (1993), or Zambrano v. INS, vacated sub nom. Immigration and Naturalization Service v. Zambrano (Zambrano), 509 U.S. 918 (1993). See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.10.

The regulations provide an illustrative list of documents that an applicant may submit to establish that he or she filed a written claim for class membership before October 1, 2000. Those regulations also permit the submission of "[a]ny other relevant document(s)." See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.14.

The applicant's claim that he filed applications for temporary residence under both section 210 and section 245A of the INA is not supported by evidence contained in the record. The applicant has failed to provide any documentation that would tend to corroborate this claim. The record shows that the applicant submitted a Legalization Front-Deskling Questionnaire that was received by the Service (now Citizenship and Immigration Services, or CIS) on November 1, 2000. An examination of the record fails to disclose that any documentation concerning a request for class membership was filed by the applicant with CIS by October 1, 2000.

The record reflects all appropriate indices and files (including a separate file, [REDACTED] were checked and it was determined that the applicant had not applied for class membership in a timely manner. Given his failure to document that he timely filed a written claim for class membership, the applicant is ineligible for permanent residence under section 1104 of the LIFE Act.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
