Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for permanent resident status under the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act was denied by the District Director, Phoenix, Arizona, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director concluded the applicant had not established that he had applied for class membership in any of the requisite legalization class-action lawsuits prior to October 1, 2000 and, therefore, denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant asserts that he attempted to file applications for legalization and, subsequently, for class membership in CSS but, on both occasions, he was prevented from applying. The applicant further asserts that he has resided in the United States since 1980.

An applicant for permanent resident status under the LIFE Act must establish that before October 1, 2000, he or she filed a written claim with the Attorney General for class membership in any of the following legalization class-action lawsuits: Catholic Social Services, Inc. v. Meese, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (CSS), League of United Latin American Citizens v. INS, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (LULAC), or Zambrano v. INS, vacated sub nom. Immigration and Naturalization Service v. Zambrano, 509 U.S. 918 (1993) (Zambrano). See 8 C.F.R. 245a.10.

The regulations provide an illustrative list of documents that an applicant may submit to establish that he or she filed a written claim for class membership before October 1, 2000. Those regulations also permit the submission of "[a]ny other relevant document(s)." See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.14.

Along with his application, the applicant provided the following:

- a photocopied a Form I-687 Application for Status as a Temporary Resident under Section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which was purportedly signed by the applicant on "1992" [no day or month accompanies the year-date]; and
- a photocopied Form for Determination of Class Membership in CSS v. Meese, which was also allegedly signed by the applicant on "1992."

Subsequently, on appeal, the applicant asserts that he attempted to file for legalization during the May 5, 1987 to May 4, 1988 application period, but was discouraged from filing due to his having engaged in unauthorized travel. The applicant further asserts that subsequently, in 1992, he had attempted to apply for class membership in CSS v. Meese but was, again, discouraged from submitting his application. However, there is no indication in CIS administrative or computer data records of the applicant ever having filed an I-687 application or a class membership determination form with this agency in 1992 or at any other time prior to his having filed his LIFE application on October 5, 2001.

The applicant has, therefore, failed to submit documentation which credibly establishes his having filed a timely written claim for class membership in one of the aforementioned legalization class-action lawsuits. Accordingly, the applicant is ineligible for permanent resident status under section 1104 of the LIFE Act.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
