Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for permanent resident status under the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act was denied by the Director, Missouri Service Center. It was reopened and denied again by the Director, National Benefits Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The directors concluded the applicant had not established that he had applied for class membership in any of the requisite legalization class-action lawsuits prior to October 1, 2000 and, therefore, denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant states that he does not understand why his petition is being denied and requests that a search be made for his records at they must be lost. The applicant requests that his application be approved.

An applicant for permanent resident status under the LIFE Act must establish that before October 1, 2000, he or she filed a written claim with the Attorney General for class membership in any of the following legalization class-action lawsuits: Catholic Social Services, Inc. v. Meese, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (CSS), League of United Latin American Citizens v. INS, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (LULAC), or Zambrano v. INS, vacated sub nom. Immigration and Naturalization Service v. Zambrano, 509 U.S. 918 (1993) (Zambrano). See 8 C.F.R. 245a.10.

The regulations provide an illustrative list of documents that an applicant may submit to establish that he or she filed a written claim for class membership before October 1, 2000. Those regulations also permit the submission of "[a]ny other relevant document(s)." See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.14.

On rebuttal to a notice of intent to deny, the applicant provided a photocopy of a typed Form I-687 Application for Status as a Temporary Resident under section 245A of the INA allegedly signed by the applicant on February 6, 1990. He also submitted a photocopy of an additional hand written but unsigned and undated Form I-687. Additionally, the applicant submitted a photocopy of an undated Form for Determination of Class Membership in CSS v. Meese. The form is blank except for the signature of the applicant.

The applicant does not explain why, if the three documents listed above were in his possession, he did not submit them with his LIFE application, as applicants were advised to provide evidence with their applications.

Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS), successor to the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), has no record of receiving any of the above three documents from the applicant until the instant LIFE application was filed on May 21, 2002. To be eligible for permanent resident status under section 1104(b) of the LIFE Act the applicant must show that after failing to file for temporary residence (legalization) during the May 5, 1987 and May 4, 1988 period, he filed a claim for class membership in one of the legalization lawsuits sometime before October 1, 2000. The applicant has not furnished any evidence, such as a postal receipt or an acknowledgement letter from the INS, that the above forms were filed with the INS on a date before October 1, 2000. As indicated above, CIS has no record of receiving any of these documents from the applicant until the instant LIFE application was filed in May 2002. That was long after the statutory deadline to file a claim for class membership one of the legalization lawsuits.

Doubt cast on any aspect of an applicant's proof may lead to a reevaluation of the reliability and sufficiency of the remaining evidence. It is incumbent upon an applicant to resolve any inconsistencies in the record by independent objective evidence, and attempts to explain or reconcile such inconsistencies, absent competent objective evidence pointing to where the truth, in fact, lies, will not suffice. Matter of Ho, 19 I. & N. Dec. 582 (BIA 1988).

The applicant has furnished no further evidence on appeal that any of the three documents discussed above was filed with the INS before October 1, 2000. Thus, none of them can be considered evidence of a timely, and therefore legally valid, claim for class membership.

Accordingly, the applicant is ineligible for permanent resident status under section 1104(b) of the LIFE Act.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
