If your appeal was dismissed, you no longer have a case pending before this office, and you are not entitled to file a motion to reopen or reconsider your case.

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for permanent resident status under the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act was denied by the Director, Missouri Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director concluded the applicant had not established that he had applied for class membership in any of the requisite legalization class-action lawsuits prior to October 1, 2000 and, therefore, denied the application.

On appeal, counsel for the applicant makes reference to a Motion to Reopen filed in connection with a prior legalization case.

An applicant for permanent resident status under the LIFE Act must establish that before October 1, 2000, he or she filed a written claim with the Attorney General for class membership in any of the following legalization class-action lawsuits: Catholic Social Services, Inc. v. Meese, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (CSS), League of United Latin American Citizens v. INS, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (LULAC), or Zambrano v. INS, vacated sub nom. Immigration and Naturalization Service v. Zambrano, 509 U.S. 918 (1993) (Zambrano). See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.10.

The regulations provide an illustrative list of documents that an applicant may submit to establish that he or she filed a written claim for class membership before October 1, 2000. Those regulations also permit the submission of "[a]ny other relevant document(s)." See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.14.

The applicant failed to submit any documentation addressing this requirement when the application was filed. Furthermore, he has not provided any documentation regarding that point in rebuttal to the director's Notice of Intent to Deny or on appeal.

On appeal, the applicant's attorney makes reference to a Motion to Reopen and Reconsider which he filed in connection with the prior adjudication of a separate application submitted by the applicant for temporary resident status under section 245A of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA). A review of the record shows that the applicant timely filed his application for temporary resident status under section 245A of the INA on April 23, 1988. That application was subsequently denied by the Director, Southern Regional Processing Facility, on November 21, 1990, and the appeal of that decision of denial was dismissed by the AAO on March 26, 1996.

In any case, an application for legalization under section 245A of the INA does not constitute an application for class membership in any of the legalization class-action lawsuits. Furthermore, section 1104 of the LIFE Act contains no provision allowing for the reopening and reconsideration of a timely filed and previously denied application for temporary resident status under section 245A. Moreover, pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.5(b), motions to reopen legalization proceedings or reconsider decisions under section 245A of the INA may not be considered.

Given his failure to establish that he filed a timely written claim for class membership, the applicant is ineligible for permanent residence under section 1104 of the LIFE Act.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
