Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for permanent resident status under the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act was denied by the Director, National Benefits Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director concluded the applicant had not established that he had applied for class membership in any of the requisite legalization class-action lawsuits prior to October 1, 2000 and, therefore, denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant asserts he is eligible for permanent resident status under the LIFE Act, and makes reference that his mother submitted an application for temporary residence in June 1988.

An applicant for permanent resident status under the LIFE Act must establish that before October 1, 2000, he or she filed a written claim with the Attorney General for class membership in any of the following legalization class-action lawsuits: Catholic Social Services, Inc. v. Meese, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (CSS), League of United Latin American Citizens v. INS, vacated sub nom. Reno v. Catholic Social Services, Inc., 509 U.S. 43 (1993) (LULAC), or Zambrano v. INS, vacated sub nom. Immigration and Naturalization Service v. Zambrano, 509 U.S. 918 (1993) (Zambrano). In the alternative, an applicant may demonstrate that his or her spouse or parent filed a written claim for class membership in a legalization class-action lawsuit before October 1, 2000. See 8 C.F.R. § 245a.10.

The applicant's LIFE application indicates that his mother was applying for adjustment of status under the provisions of the LIFE Act. In an attempt to determine if the applicant may be eligible for the benefit being sought as a derivative beneficiary, the director reviewed Citizenship and Immigration Services records, but was unable to establish any record that the applicant's mother had filed a timely written claim to class membership.

Section 1104(c)(2)(B)(i) of the LIFE Act requires that each applicant for permanent resident status must establish that he or she entered and commenced residing in the United States prior to January 1, 1982. On the applicant's G-325A Biographic Information Form dated February 13, 2003, the applicant indicated that he resided in his native Colombia from June 1978 until August 1998. Given the applicant's inability to meet the statutory requirement of residence in the United States since before January 1, 1982, the applicant is ineligible for permanent residence under section 1104 of the LIFE Act.

Accordingly, the issue of whether the applicant applied for class membership in the CSS-LULAC lawsuit is moot.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
