Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for permanent resident status under the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act was denied by the director in New York City. The decision is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director denied the application on the ground that the applicant failed to establish that he entered the United States before January 1, 1982 and resided continuously in the United States in an unlawful status from before January 1982 through May 4, 1988.

On his Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal, filed on August 1, 2007, the applicant indicated that his brief and/or additional evidence was attached. The applicant submitted copies of some documents already in the record, and attached a personal statement dated July 20, 2007. The applicant indicated that when he resided at [REDACTED] Bronx, New York, the landlord issued the rent receipts to his roommate because his roommate was the legal person. The applicant asked the director to take a lenient view and approve his application based on humanitarian grounds (that he is a law abiding person with no criminal record, and a hard working person). The applicant did not allege any legal or factual error in the director's decision and submitted no new evidence. As of the date of this decision, no additional evidence has been submitted, and the record will be deemed complete.

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed that fails to state the reason for appeal, or is patently frivolous, will be summarily dismissed.

A review of the decision reveals that the director accurately set forth a legitimate basis for denial of the application. On appeal, the applicant has not addressed the grounds stated for denial, and has not cited any error(s) in the decision. Nor has the applicant presented additional evidence relevant to the grounds for denial or the stated reason for appeal.

The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
