ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT: SELF-REPRESENTED

INSTRUCTIONS:

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status as a special agricultural worker was initially denied by the District Director, Denver, Colorado. The case was subsequently reopened and denied again by the Director, Northern Regional Processing Facility, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The facility director denied the application because the applicant failed to establish the performance of at least 90 man-days of qualifying agricultural employment during the eligibility period. This decision was based on adverse information acquired by the Service (now the Bureau) relating to the applicant's claim of employment for [REDACTED] at Tanaka Farms.

On appeal, the applicant indicated that he had not received Bureau correspondence relating to the denial of his application and requested copies of this correspondence. The applicant stated that additional material in support of his appeal would be forthcoming in a brief upon compliance with his request.

The record shows that the Bureau complied with the request and mailed copies of both the Notice of Intent to Deny and Notice of Denial to the applicant on January 21, 1993. However, as of the date of this decision, the applicant has failed to submit a brief, statement, or documentation addressing the basis of the director's denial.

In order to be eligible for temporary resident status as a special agricultural worker, an alien must have engaged in qualifying agricultural employment for at least 90 man-days during the twelve-month period ending May 1, 1986, and must be otherwise admissible under section 210(c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) and not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 210.3(d). 8 C.F.R. § 210.3(a). An applicant has the burden of proving the above by a preponderance of the evidence. 8 C.F.R. § 210.3(b).

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed that fails to state the reason for appeal, or is patently frivolous, will be summarily dismissed. The applicant has failed to address the reasons stated for denial and has not provided any additional evidence on appeal. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
