Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status as a special agricultural worker was denied by the Director, Western Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The director denied the application because the applicant failed to establish the performance of at least 90 man-days of qualifying agricultural employment during the eligibility period ending May 1, 1986. This determination was based on adverse information acquired by the Bureau regarding the applicant's claim of employment for farm labor contractor [REDACTED]

An examination of Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) records indicates that an appeal from this decision was received on April 9, 1993. However, the record of proceedings does not include a copy of this appeal. Subsequently, on June 1, 2002, the California Service Center sent the applicant a notice requesting that he provide a duplicate copy of his appeal. The record contains a postal return receipt which was signed by a family member of the applicant on June 3, 2002, acknowledging receipt of this notice. However, the requested copy of the applicant's appeal was not forthcoming. On October 24, 2002, a subsequent notice was sent to the applicant. As of this date, however, the applicant has failed to provide a copy of his appeal, as requested.

In order to be eligible for temporary resident status as a special agricultural worker, an alien must have engaged in qualifying agricultural employment for at least 90 man-days during the twelve-month period ending May 1, 1986, and must be otherwise admissible under section 210(c) of the Act and not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 210.3(d). 8 C.F.R. § 210.3(a). An applicant has the burden of proving the above by a preponderance of the evidence. 8 C.F.R. § 210.3(b).

As stated in 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(3)(iv), any appeal which is filed that fails to state the reason for appeal, or is patently frivolous, will be summarily dismissed. The applicant has failed to address the reasons stated for denial and has not provided any additional evidence on appeal. The appeal must therefore be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
