Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application for temporary resident status as a special agricultural worker was denied by the Director, Western Service Center, reopened and denied again by the Director, California Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The directors denied the application for lack of prosecution because the applicant failed to appear for the required interview regarding his Application for Temporary Residence as a Special Agricultural Worker.

On appeal, the applicant stated that he never received the Service's notices.

In order to be eligible for temporary resident status as a special agricultural worker, an alien must have engaged in qualifying agricultural employment for at least 90 man-days during the twelve-month period ending May 1, 1986, and must be otherwise admissible under section 210(c) of the Act and not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 210.3(d).

Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 210.2(c)(2)(iv), each alien who filed his application in the United States, regardless of age, must appear at the appropriate Service legalization office and must be fingerprinted... Each applicant shall be interviewed by an immigration officer, except that the interview may be waived when it is impractical because of the health of the applicant.

The applicant was scheduled for his interview on April 10, 1989. However, he failed to appear. The Director, Western Service Center denied the application on February 22, 1991. Subsequently, the application was reopened and the applicant was notified in writing on May 22, 1991 that he was scheduled for a second interview on June 4, 1991. The applicant once again failed to appear. Accordingly, the director denied the application on October 19, 2001 as the applicant had failed to present himself for his required interview.

The applicant was provided with two opportunities to appear for his interview. He has failed to comply with Service requirements. Therefore, the applicant is ineligible for temporary resident status as a special agricultural worker.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed. This decision constitutes a final notice of ineligibility.
