Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, Texas Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254a.

The director determined that the applicant failed to submit all of the evidence requested to establish that: (1) he has continuously resided in the United States since December 30, 1998; (2) he has been continuously physically present in the United States since January 5, 1999 to the date the application was filed; and (2) he was eligible for filing after the initial registration period from January 5, 1999 to August 20, 1999. The director, therefore, denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant states that he has been here for an appropriate amount of time to deserve a chance to better himself. He further states that he has a child born here and he would like for her to have a chance to grow in a country full of opportunities.

8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

Summary dismissal. An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

The applicant has failed to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal. Nor did the applicant address the issue of eligibility for late registration. Accordingly, the appeal will be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
