FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1254a.

The director determined that the applicant failed to: (1) establish that he was eligible for late registration (after the initial registration period from January 5, 1999 to August 20, 1999); and (2) submit sufficient evidence to establish that he has been continuously physically present in the United States since January 5, 1999. The director further determined that there is no evidence that the applicant's mother is an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant. The director, therefore, denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant's mother states that she needs time for her case to be approved, and that she is also collecting papers to establish when her child (the applicant) entered the country. She indicates on Item 2, Form I-290B, that she needs 240 days in which to submit a brief and/or evidence. However, it has been approximately nine months since the request for an extension was made and neither a brief nor additional evidence has been received in the record of proceeding.

8 C.F.R. 103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

Summary dismissal. An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

The applicant has failed to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal. Further, while the applicant states that additional evidence will be provided, no additional evidence has been received. Accordingly, the appeal will be summarily dismissed.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
