DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, Vermont Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application because the applicant failed to establish that she had continuously resided in the United States since February 13, 2001, and had been continuously physically present in the United States since March 9, 2001.

On appeal, the applicant submits additional documentation. The applicant indicates that she is sending a brief and/or evidence to the AAO within 30 days of filing the appeal. To date, no additional documentation has been received; therefore, the record is considered complete.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant is eligible for TPS only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national, as defined in section 101(a)(21) of the Act, of a foreign state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under § 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under § 244.4; and
- (f)
  - (1) Registers for Temporary Protected Status during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or
  - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
    - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
    - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;

(iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or

(iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.

- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director, within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of conditions described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

The phrase continuously physically present, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means actual physical presence in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous physical presence in the United States by virtue of brief, casual, and innocent absences as defined within this section.

The phrase continuously resided, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means residing in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous residence in the United States by reason of a brief, casual and innocent absence as defined within this section or due merely to a brief temporary trip abroad required by emergency or extenuating circumstances outside the control of the alien.

The phrase brief, casual, and innocent absence, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means a departure from the United States that satisfies the following criteria:

- (1) Each such absence was of short duration and reasonably calculated to accomplish the purpose(s) for the absence;
- (2) The absence was not the result of an order of deportation, an order of voluntary departure, or an administrative grant of voluntary departure without the institution of deportation proceedings; and
- (3) The purposes for the absence from the United States or actions while outside of the United States were not contrary to law.

On March 9, 2001, the Attorney General designated El Salvador for TPS. On July 9, 2002, the Attorney General announced an extension of the TPS designation until September 9, 2003. The Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security granted a subsequent extension of that designation, with validity until March 9, 2005, upon the applicant's re-registration during the requisite time period.

Persons applying for TPS offered to El Salvadorans must demonstrate continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001, and continuous physical presence in the United States since March 9, 2001. The initial registration period for Salvadorans was from March 9, 2001, through September 9, 2002. The applicant filed her initial TPS application on October 29, 2001.

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS). 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

On December 13, 2002, the applicant was requested to submit evidence establishing her continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001, and continuous physical presence since March 9, 2001. The applicant, in response, provided photocopies of the following:

1. A letter from [REDACTED] supervisor of [REDACTED] Washington, D.C., dated July 3, 2001, stating that the applicant has been employed by the company full-time since October 10, 1999;
2. Two receipts from [REDACTED] dated December 12, 1999, and October 11, 2000;
3. A medical record from [REDACTED] Falls Church, Virginia, indicating that the applicant was seen in his/her office on January 17, 2002; and,
4. A medical receipt from [REDACTED] Washington, D.C., indicating that the applicant had an appointment on May 9, 2002.

The director determined that the applicant had failed to submit sufficient evidence to establish her eligibility for TPS and denied the application on May 19, 2003.

On appeal, the applicant submits photocopies of the following:

5. An unidentified document, written in Spanish with no English translation;
6. A receipt from [REDACTED] California, dated July 28, 2001; and
7. A receipt from [REDACTED] dated February 7, 2001.

No. 1, above, has little evidentiary weight or probative value as it does not provide basic information that is expressly required by 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a)(2)(i). Specifically, the affiant does not provide the address where the applicant resided during the period of his employment. No. 5 carries no evidentiary weight, as the applicant has not provided an English translation of the document. Nos. 3 and 4 indicate dates in 2002, more than a year after the applicant had already filed her TPS application. No. 2 indicates a date prior to the periods for establishing continuous residence and continuous physical presence.

The applicant claims to have entered the United States on October 10, 1999. It is reasonable to assume that the applicant would have sufficient contemporaneous evidence, in addition to Nos. 6 and 7 provided, to establish her qualifying residence and physical presence during the qualifying time periods.

It is concluded that the applicant has not submitted sufficient credible evidence to establish her qualifying continuous residence in the United States since February 13, 2001, or her continuous physical presence in the United States since March 9, 2001. She has, therefore, failed to establish that she has met the criteria described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for temporary protected status will be affirmed.

An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
