DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, Texas Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be rejected.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application because the applicant failed to establish that he was eligible for late registration. The initial registration period for Hondurans was from January 5, 1999, through August 20, 1999. The applicant filed his initial TPS application with Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS), on May 7, 2003.

An appeal that is not filed within the time allowed must be rejected as improperly filed. In such a case, any filing fee accepted will not be refunded. 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(2)(v)(B)(1).

Whenever a person has the right or is required to do some act within a prescribed period after the service of a notice upon him and the notice is served by mail, three days shall be added to the prescribed period. Service by mail is complete upon mailing. 8 C.F.R. § 103.5a(b).

The director's decision of denial, dated September 11, 2003, clearly advised the applicant that any appeal must be properly filed within thirty days after service of the decision. 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(2)(i). Coupled with three days for mailing, the appeal, in this case, should have been filed on or before October 14, 2003. The appeal was received at the Texas Service Center on October 20, 2003.

Based upon the applicant's failure to file a timely appeal, the appeal will be rejected.

Although not addressed by the director, it also is noted that the applicant also failed to submit sufficient credible evidence to establish his continuous residence and continuous physical presence in the United States during the requisite periods.

It is further noted that the record does not contain evidence of the applicant's fingerprint results, or a copy of the Fingerprint Notification informing the applicant to appear for fingerprinting.

As always in these proceedings, the burden of proof rests solely with the applicant. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361.

ORDER: The appeal is rejected.
