Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the [REDACTED] and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Honduras who indicated on her application that she entered the United States, without a lawful admission or parole. The director denied the application for Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of [REDACTED] U.S.C. § 1254, because the applicant failed to establish she was eligible for late registration. The director also found that the applicant had failed to establish her qualifying continuous residence and physical presence in the United States during the requisite periods.

On appeal, the applicant states that she is the child of an alien currently eligible to be [REDACTED]. The applicant submits additional documentation in support of her appeal.

[REDACTED] and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an applicant who is a national of a foreign state designated by the Attorney General is eligible for temporary protected status only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national, as defined in section 101(a)(21) of the Act, of a foreign state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under section 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
  - (1) Registers for TPS during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the Federal Register, or
  - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
    - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
    - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
    - (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or

- (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.
- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of conditions described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

The phrase continuously physically present, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means actual physical presence in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous physical presence in the [REDACTED] absences as defined within this section.

The phrase continuously resided, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means residing in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous residence in the United States by reason of a brief, casual and innocent absence as defined within this section or due merely to a brief temporary trip abroad required by emergency or extenuating circumstances outside the control of the alien.

The phrase brief, casual, and innocent absence, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means a departure from the United States that satisfies the following criteria:

- (1) Each such absence was of short duration and reasonably calculated to accomplish the purpose(s) for the absence;
- (2) The absence was not the result of an order of deportation, an order of voluntary departure, or an administrative grant of voluntary departure without the institution of deportation proceedings; and
- (3) The purposes for the absence from the United States or actions while outside of the United States were not contrary to law.

Persons applying for TPS offered to Hondurans must demonstrate that they have continuously resided in the United States [REDACTED] that they have been continuously physically present since [REDACTED] [REDACTED] announced an extension of the [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Subsequent extensions of the [REDACTED] have been granted, with the latest extension valid until [REDACTED] upon the applicant's re-registration during the requisite time period.

The initial registration period for [REDACTED] through [REDACTED] The record reveals that the applicant filed her application with [REDACTED] now [REDACTED]

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by CIS. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet her burden of proof the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

The first issue in this proceeding is whether the applicant is eligible for late registration.

The record of proceedings confirms that the applicant filed her application after the initial registration period had closed. To qualify for late registration, the applicant must provide evidence that during the initial registration period, she was either in a valid immigration status, had an application pending for relief from removal, was a parolee, or was the spouse/child of an alien currently eligible to be a [REDACTED] and she had filed an application for late registration within 60 days of the expiration or termination of the conditions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2).

[REDACTED] was requested to submit evidence establishing her eligibility for late registration as set forth in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). The applicant was also requested to submit evidence establishing her qualifying residence and physical presence in the United States. The applicant, in response, provided documentation relating to her residence and physical presence in the United States.

The director determined that the applicant had failed to establish she was eligible for late registration and denied the application on [REDACTED]

On appeal, the applicant stated that she is the child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS recipient. The applicant submitted copies of her father's Social Security card and his Employment Authorization card with an [REDACTED] and a copy of her Extract of Record of Birth Certificate.

The applicant asserted on appeal that she was eligible for TPS because her father had been granted TPS. While regulations may allow children of aliens who are TPS-eligible to file their applications after the initial registration period has closed, these regulations do not relax the other requirements for eligibility for TPS.

The applicant did not enter the [REDACTED]. Further, in order to establish eligibility as the child of her father, the applicant must also present evidence of the legal relationship between the child's parents. The applicant has presented no evidence of this relationship. Consequently, the director's conclusion that the applicant had failed to establish her eligibility for late registration will be affirmed.

The second issue in this proceeding is whether the applicant has established her continuous residence in the [REDACTED] and her continuous physical presence in the [REDACTED]

As stated above, the applicant was requested [REDACTED] to submit evidence establishing her qualifying residence and physical presence in the United States. The director noted that the applicant stated that she entered the United States "after the dates mentioned for establishing a residence and physical presence in the United States." In response, the applicant submitted copies of unnumbered receipts for [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

The director concluded that the applicant had failed to establish her qualifying residence and physical presence in the United States during the requisite periods and denied the application.

On appeal, the applicant states that she believes that she is entitled to [REDACTED] she has met all the requirements.

As noted by the director, the applicant stated in her [REDACTED] that she came to the [REDACTED]. She has, therefore, failed to establish that she has met the criteria described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(b) and (c). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for temporary protected status on this ground will also be affirmed.

An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
