IN RE: Applicant: [REDACTED]

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:
[REDACTED]

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All documents have been returned to the office that originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

for Robert P. Wiemann, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the application because the applicant had failed to establish that he was eligible for late registration.

On appeal, the applicant submits a statement and additional evidence.

Section 244(c) of the Act, and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2, provide that an alien who is a national of a foreign state designated by the Attorney General is eligible for temporary protected status only if such alien establishes that he or she:

- (a) Is a national, as defined in section 101(a)(21) of the Act, of a foreign state designated under section 244(b) of the Act;
- (b) Has been continuously physically present in the United States since the effective date of the most recent designation of that foreign state;
- (c) Has continuously resided in the United States since such date as the Attorney General may designate;
- (d) Is admissible as an immigrant except as provided under § 244.3;
- (e) Is not ineligible under 8 C.F.R. § 244.4; and
- (f)
 - (1) Registers for TPS during the initial registration period announced by public notice in the Federal Register, or
 - (2) During any subsequent extension of such designation if at the time of the initial registration period:
 - (i) The applicant is a nonimmigrant or has been granted voluntary departure status or any relief from removal;
 - (ii) The applicant has an application for change of status, adjustment of status, asylum, voluntary departure, or any relief from removal which is pending or subject to further review or appeal;
 - (iii) The applicant is a parolee or has a pending request for reparole; or
 - (iv) The applicant is a spouse or child of an alien currently eligible to be a TPS registrant.

- (g) Has filed an application for late registration with the appropriate Service director within a 60-day period immediately following the expiration or termination of condition described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section.

The term continuously resided, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means residing in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous residence in the United States by reason of a brief, casual, and innocent absence as defined within this section or due merely to a brief temporary trip abroad required by emergency or extenuating circumstances outside the control of the alien.

The term continuously physically present, as defined in 8 C.F.R. § 244.1, means actual physical presence in the United States for the entire period specified in the regulations. An alien shall not be considered to have failed to maintain continuous physical presence in the United States by virtue of brief, casual, and innocent absences as defined within this section.

Persons applying for TPS offered to Hondurans must demonstrate that they have continuously resided in the United States since December 30, 1998, and that they have been continuously physically present since January 5, 1999. On May 11, 2000, the Attorney General announced an extension of the TPS designation until July 5, 2001. Subsequent extensions of the TPS designation have been granted with the latest extension valid until July 5, 2006, upon the applicant's re-registration during the requisite time period.

The initial registration period for Hondurans was from January 5, 1999 through August 20, 1999. The record shows that the applicant filed his TPS application on June 2, 2000.

To qualify for late registration, the applicant must provide evidence that during the initial registration period from January 5, 1999 through August 20, 1999, he fell within the provisions described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2) (listed above).

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to establish that he or she meets the above requirements. Applicants shall submit all documentation as required in the instructions or requested by Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS). 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(a). The sufficiency of all evidence will be judged according to its relevancy, consistency, credibility, and probative value. To meet his or her burden of proof the applicant must provide supporting documentary evidence of eligibility apart from his or her own statements. 8 C.F.R. § 244.9(b).

In a notice of intent to deny dated November 13, 2003, the applicant was requested to submit evidence establishing his eligibility for late registration as set forth in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). The applicant, in response, provided evidence of his residence and physical presence in the United States, and a copy of the State of Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles record request; however, he failed to address the issue of eligibility for late registration.

The director determined that the applicant had failed to establish he was eligible for late registration and denied the application on December 29, 2003.

On appeal, the applicant asserts that his TPS application was approved, and he was given permission to work; therefore, it is not a late registration. He submits a copy of his Employment Authorization Card valid from December 1, 2001 through July 5, 2002.

The applicant's assertions are without merit. The fact that the applicant was issued employment authorization is not evidence that he was granted TPS. Based upon filing of the I-821 application for TPS, the applicant was afforded temporary treatment benefits and was issued Employment Authorization upon establishing prima facie eligibility¹ for TPS pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 244.5(b). As provided in 8 C.F.R. § 244.13(a), temporary treatment benefits terminate upon a final determination with respect to the alien's eligibility for TPS.

Furthermore, a review of the record of proceeding indicates that the applicant filed Form I-589, Request for Asylum in the United States, on March 31, 1992. On April 19, 1996, the asylum application was denied, and an Order to Show Cause and Notice of Hearing, Form I-221, was served on the applicant on April 23, 1996. Because the applicant failed to appear at a scheduled interview before an Immigration Judge (IJ) on March 12, 1997, the applicant was ordered deported from the United States to Honduras. The applicant appealed the decision of the IJ to the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA). On June 29, 1999, the BIA administratively closed proceedings after noting that the applicant appeared eligible to apply for TPS. The applicant filed his TPS application on June 2, 2000, more than 60 days after the expiration of the qualifying condition. See 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(g). The applicant, therefore, does not meet the requirements described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2).

The applicant has failed to establish that he has met any of the criteria for late registration described in 8 C.F.R. § 244.2(f)(2). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for temporary protected status will be affirmed.

It is noted that the applicant submitted a copy of the State of Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles record request, indicating that on November 15, 1999, the applicant was convicted of Nevada "Violation Code 020," under Citation Number [REDACTED] Citation Date June 19, 1999). The record does not show whether this offense is a misdemeanor or a felony, nor was the numeric code of this offense specifically identified. A conviction of a felony or two or more misdemeanors may render the applicant ineligible for TPS pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
